An Air Force Titan intercontinental ballistic missile rises from its underground silo in a test at Vandenberg AFB, Calif. The silo is the prototype of all Titan installations now being built around the country. During an actual launch, the Titan will be prepared for flight underground. Then during the last few minutes of the countdown, the 200-ton, steel and concrete doors open, the missile rises to ground level and is ignited.

Public Hearing Slated in Buffalo For Gas Rate Hike

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Iroquois Gas Corp.'s request for a $1,061,800 rate increase will go before a public hearing in Buffalo Aug. 4.

The Public Service Commission temporarily blocked Tuesday the utility's move to increase its monthly minimum charge from $1.25 to $1.30.

Had the commission not acted, the increase would have become effective Aug. 1 to Iroquois' 350,000 customers in western New York.

The company said the increase was needed to offset increased operating costs.

Iroquois provides natural and mixed gas service in and near Buffalo, Lackawanna, Tonawanda, North Tonawanda, Niagara Falls, Dunkirk, Salamanca and Batavia and in parts of Livingston, Wyoming and Monroe counties.

In decisions today, the commission granted small rate increases to a water company and a telephone company.

It accepted a tariff amendment filed by the Pine Hill Water Co. designed to increase the firm's rates to 17 hotels and boarding houses served on a metered basis.

The new rates, effective Aug. 1, will produce about $865 additional revenue. The water firm serves 140 customers in and near Pine Hill, Ulster County, mainly on a flat-rate basis.

The commission also accepted a tariff amendment by Empire Telephone Corp. that would increase rates to its recently converted dial exchange at Lodi, Seneca County, beginning Aug. 1.

Monthly charges will be increased 25 cents to multi-party residential subscribers, $1 to individual residential lines, 50 cents to individual business lines, $1.25 to multi-party and two-party business lines and 75 cents to multi-party and rural business subscribers.

The increase will produce an estimated $936 in increased annual revenue.

The company was formed by the consolidation of the Plattsburgh Telephone, Caywood, Lodi and Valois Telephone and East Pembroke Telephone companies.

Convention Sidelights

By ROBERT T. GRAY

CHICAGO (AP)—The New York State delegation to the Republican Convention blossomed out with Nixon buttons today after several days as the most button-less group in the convention swirl.

Nearly everybody in Chicago wears a campaign button these days.

But the New Yorkers, officially neutral, were not even wearing "Draft Rockefeller" buttons in the first days of the convention.

All that changed Tuesday, Gov. Rockefeller endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the rest of the 96-vote delegation followed suit.

Nixon buttons, from discreet lapel pins to pieplate-sized discs, are in evidence in the New York group today.

Some of them appeared with surprising speed, almost as if they had been hidden on closet shelves.

The governor's statement backing Nixon was different from the usual, political endorsement Rockefeller used "I" "me" or "myself" 18 times.

The vice president was referred to by name or title five times. But the governor, of course, was extricating himself from an involved political situation.

As expected, a subcommittee of the delegation voted against nominating a favorite-son candidate for vice president. The consensus was that anyone selected would have no chance of winning and those overlooked might resent it.

New York was host for a huge dance Tuesday night, an event some were referred to as the convention's "Senior Prom." There were three bands for the crowds that jammed the ballroom of the New York headquarters hotel, the Sheraton Towers.

More than 3,000 delegates, alternates and other convention-goers were invited.

State Office Building Superintendent Fired

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph E. Pilgrim, superintendent of the State Office Building in Syracuse, has been fired for violating Public Works Department regulations.

The department, in announcing the dismissal Tuesday, declined to elaborate.

A department hearing last month reportedly concerned charges that Pilgrim forced building service employees to join the Building Service Employees Union. He is a former official of the union.

Pilgrim also reportedly induced the building workers to assist him in refurbishing his home on state time, and he allegedly set up a social club for political activities inside the eight-story state building.

Pilgrim's dismissal was effective June 5, the date he was suspended from his $7,800-a-year post. He had been appointed during the administration of former Gov. Averell Harriman, a Democrat.

Pilgrim did not have civil service status, a department spokesman said.

Charge to Over-optimism

MEMPHIS (AP)—Preliminary figures from the 1960 census stripped one disillusioned Memphis man of a title he held only a few months. When Eric H. Witherspoon came here from Pittsburgh the Chamber of Commerce dubbed him "Mr. Half-Million." Census figures show the population to be only 495,039.

Syracuse Man Is Held for Attempt To Get Bank Money

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Raymond Hildreth, 51, of Syracuse, is charged with attempting to rob, by proxy, the First National Bank of nearby Minoa of $20,000.

Hildreth, a carpenter, was arrested Tuesday by State Police and the FBI. He waived a preliminary hearing when arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Edward M. Conan. Hildreth was released in $2,500 bail.

The FBI said Hildreth sent a teen-age boy into the bank July 20 with a note that demanded $20,000, later called the bank by telephone, again demanded the money and threatened bank employees.

Tommy Dodd, 17, of Kirkville, told police a man gave him a "couple of bucks" to deliver the note. Dodd was not held.

Grant Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Approval of an advance of $31,000 to Seneca Falls, N.Y., for planning a hospital estimated to cost $750,000 was announced today by the Community Facilities Administration.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 27, 1960

THE POLARIS MESSAGE

News of the successful firing of two Polaris missiles is both heartening and ominous. It is heartening because the Polaris submarine, capable of roving the seas and holding enemy powers under the constant threat of retaliation, gives the free world a most remarkable deterrent weapon. It is ominous because, although so far as is known the Soviet Union does not yet have a comparable weapon, that may well change within the next few years.

If it does—that is, if the Russians are able to equip part of their huge submarine fleet with undersea rockets—the threat of mutual disaster will be all the more terrible. There is nothing at all pleasant or hopeful about the prospect of a world in which two great power blocs have such instruments of destruction lurking off one another's coasts.

For the moment, the Polaris appears to tip the balance of destructive might in favor of the West. There is some cause for gratification in that. As long as we can be confident that our undersea missiles will be unleashed only in case of attack—and there is no reason at all to suppose otherwise—the Polaris will be a source of comfort because it tends to counteract an apparent Soviet edge in long-range missiles.

The time will inevitably come, however, when not all the world's undersea nuclear missiles will be straining at U.S. leashes. It is a safe bet that Russian technology is pushing hard to match us in this regard. The successful Polaris test underscores, once again, the importance and urgency of using every honorable means to control world armaments and reduce the threat of global conflict.

SKITTISH—BUT BULLISH

While the Democrats are enthusiastic over their accomplishments in Los Angeles, the stock market seems not to have shared that enthusiasm. As measured by the Dow Jones averages, the market during the week of the convention dropped about 20 points. Though this could easily have been coincidental, there are those who expect a rise in market prices during the Republican sessions in Chicago.

These influences, if they can be called that, could in any event only provoke very short-term reaction. The outlook for business will determine the long-range picture. With but an exception or two, most market analysts are bullish over prospects for the next six to nine months. While the statistical indicators seem to present a contradictory picture, certain data confirm the bullish view.

Probably the most significant fact is the general decline in inventory levels. Merchants need a continuing supply of goods to sell to meet the demands of consumers with disposable income in their pockets. Sooner or later, these demands must become translated into increased production. The wheels of industry should be turning at a fairly fast clip during the last half of 1960, regardless of the fortunes of the two political parties.

BACK TO THE O. A. S.

There is great cause for gratification in the United Nations Security Council's decision to let the Organization of American States deal with the dispute between Cuba and the United States. This relinquishing of jurisdiction is more than a victory for the United States. It gives us a far better chance to work out a hemispheric solution for a hemispheric problem.

Arriving at a solution will not be easy. There is no question of dealing with this matter by getting the Latin American states together and pushing through a resolution saying the United States is right and Cuba is wrong.

Even less is it a matter of U. S. intervention to balk the Communists. Such action, more than anything else, would alienate other Latin American countries. We must continue to exercise forbearance, and meanwhile cooperate with other O. A. S.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
NOTE TO REPUBLICANS

This is going to be a very difficult campaign for both political parties. Nixon and Kennedy are about evenly matched for better or for worse. Nixon has enemies and admirers; so has Kennedy. But Kennedy has a swift-acting, well-financed organization such as Nixon cannot hope to have. This is one occasion which proves that a ceiling must be put on campaign expenditures or we shall sooner or later have our elections on the auction block.

If the Republicans attempt to compete with the Democratic give-away program, there will be no logical reason why anyone should vote for or against either party. The Democratic platform calls for the bankruptcy of the United States and the depreciation of the American dollar to worthlessness. Read the platform and try some mathematics on it! Try to calculate where the money is to come from. The Democrats say that it can be produced from increased production. They say that if steel production is down 50 per cent, bring it up to 100 per cent; if automobile production is down, the Democrats would bring it up, etc., etc.

But the question that arises here is how the Democrats do this? We have outpriced ourselves not only in foreign markets but in our domestic market. Young people are buying foreign cars in the United States because they are cheaper; they are buying foreign knitwear because they are both cheaper and better.

Are the Democrats going to increase production by a protective tariff? Are the Democrats going to reject GATT? Are the Democrats going to put a ceiling on wages, profits and prices to make American goods competitive with European and Asiatic-made goods? Are the Democrats going to end costly featherbedding by both labor and management in American industry?

These are very practical questions for the Republicans to ask not only of the Democrats but also of themselves because if the Republican platform imitates the Democratic platform in economic imprudence, there will be no choice between parties.

The Republican situation as regards international relations is better than the Democratic. Richard Nixon's reputation is solid. He has been more correct than President Eisenhower as regards Russia; he has recognized our difficulties in Latin America. Khrushchev's personal antagonism to him is an advantage. He has had eight years in the Cabinet and he has been on the National Security Council during the whole of the Eisenhower Administration. He needs no briefing.

It is true that the British would have preferred Adlai Stevenson for President and not him. But it is not important as to whom the British or the Russians or the Congolese want to be President of the United States or its Secretary of State. There has been too much interference in American affairs by other countries. The reason for Khrushchev's hating Nixon is that he told that buffoon off on his own territory in Moscow for all the world to see. That was unforgivable in the eyes of the blown-up clown who builds his career on a hate-America program.

It is to be hoped that neither candidate will resort to cheapness and vulgarity, for if one can hit the other can hit back. The issues before the nation are so serious that a debate on issues rather than a swatting campaign is in order. Both Nixon and Kennedy are able to debate without ghost-written speeches. Each can stand on his own feet.

Those Republicans who believe that the Republicans must out-promise the Democrats are impractical. First of all, they cannot out-promise the Democrats because the latter have already promised everything to everybody. The Republicans need to point to our perils, to the dangers we face, to the austerity we face.

Richard Nixon must deal with the problems of sound money and full employment honestly and realistically. The American voter, particularly his wife, knows that the dollar is in real trouble. He needs a promise of sound money. He needs to be told how the value of the dollar can be re-established. The American wants to work and he does not want foreigners to take his job away from him. He knows that we are exporting capital to all parts of the world, but can we export labor? How are our people to hold their jobs if we export capital to take their jobs away from them? Booklet Strikes at Hoaxes
Aimed at Arthritis Victims

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The Public Affairs Committee, a nonprofit educational organization, in conjunction with the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation has just issued another of its valuable pamphlets.

Titled "The Arthritis Hoax," this publication (available at a cost of a quarter mailed to 22 E. 38th Street, New York City 16) exposes "the vicious racket that thrives on the misery of the nation's 11,000,000 victims."

Its purpose, in the words of Gen. George C. Kenney, president of the foundation, is the arousal of public vigilance to the end that "dishonest claims of relief and cure" may be stopped through "swift punishment" of those who exploit human misery and human hopes, and through elimination of the profit that derives from these swindles.

Among the hoaxes exposed are "uranium pills" to which more than 350,000 patients have been lured "to take uranium mine treatments" in mines that, fortunately, contain no more radiation than that "received from an illuminated watch dial."

Then there are $300 Atomotrons that supposedly give forth "healing radiation." Pads and mits, purported to be filled with "radioactive minerals" and a stainless steel wrist watch band (price $22.50) said to contain a "miniature thermopile" are other fraudulent gimmicks.

An applicator that would produce perfect health by expanding the atoms of the body with its "Z-ray" has customers. Innumerable machines that cast vari-colored lights and glorified aspirin-type remedies, providing 12 cents' worth of aspirin at a cost of about $3 per 100 tablets claim their share of victims.

"Immune milk" marketed at a price of $1.70 a quart fools others.

Countless are the liniments, ointments and lotions; herbs, herb juices, bitters and acids containing concoctions of burdock, wild cherry bark, quassia, dandelion root, cohosh, aloes, tag elder, licorice root life root, sarsaparilla and alfalfa, with or without vitamin supplements.

Special diets or food supplements are advocated by Dan Dale Alexander in his book "Arthritis and Common Sense." The book "already has amassed about $2,000,000 in sales" despite a conclusion of the Federal Trade Commission that "the book offers nothing but unproved theories" and issuance of a government order to "stop advertising that the treatments recommended can cure or relieve its (arthritis) symptoms."

I'll have more to say on this subject.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Newspaper Enterprise
Washington Correspondent

CHICAGO — (NEA) — Republican campaign managers and platform writers are going to run hard on the Eisenhower Administration record.

There is to be no clean break with the past such as the Democrats made at their Los Angeles convention, where candidates and platform writers put their focus and emphasis on change for the next 10 years and beyond.

Under normal political conditions, President Eisenhower's appearance in Chicago Tuesday night for the big "Thank You, Ike," celebration would be his next-to-the-last hurrah. His last will be at the January inauguration of the next president.

But in between these two events, President Eisenhower is not going to be allowed just to fade quietly away into retirement like the old soldier.

This is not Mr. Eisenhower's own choosing or doing. The President is keeping hands off Chicago. He is not trying to dictate the platform or amend it. The President will not attend the final Chicago session, at which the winners will give their acceptance speeches, though he may be presented on convention screens by closed circuit television.

GOP campaign manager Leonard Hall is counting on President Eisenhower to be available for major speeches between now and November. This does not mean that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will not bear the brunt of the campaigning as he did in both 1952 and 1956. Nixon will be in the spotlight all right, but he will be sharing it with Mr. Eisenhower's reflected glory.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

July 27, 1940—The city industrial committee planned to establish permanent headquarters.

Mary Agnes O'Brien, of Eddyville, died.

John Banks, Woodstock artist, died in Kingston.

A heat wave of several days brought a noon temperature of 94 degrees here on this date.

July 27, 1950—Plans were being prepared for the Saugerties-Kingston section of the New York State Thruway.

This is revealed in the first 1960 Republican platform planks to be released. Here, there is repeated emphasis on the "Eisenhower-Nixon" accomplishments of the last seven and a half years. The designation is significant.

It makes the Vice President an equal partner in the formation and execution of what has previously been called only the Eisenhower program.

This commits the Vice President to running on the Eisenhower record, not his own. It puts Mr. Nixon in second place instead of first, where he belongs as the new head of the party. It puts Mr. Nixon in a bad box from which he must escape.

"Under the Eisenhower-Nixon Administration," the platform says, "our military might has been forged into a power second to none."

The Eisenhower-Nixon Administration which is given credit for creating a Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, a new Federal Aviation Agency and reorganizing the Dept. of Defense... fostering small business... promoting safe, efficient, competitive transport by air, rail and road and water... and so on.

The farm section of the platform does not endorse the Eisenhower-Nixon program for agriculture by that name, but parts of it are there.

The full platform will reveal some new ideas of Mr. Nixon. The national defense and economic growth sections reveal the influence of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in part.

But the whole business shows how the Eisenhower magic is being counted on to carry the GOP to another victory.

So They Say..

Some of the most eloquent protests against trivia on television come from newspapers whose front pages have been ablaze with inside stories on personalities whose sole contributions to television are light entertainment.

It's 'Miss' Chief Editor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — For the first time in 80 years a girl, Linda Greiner, has been named chief editor of "The Tech," student newspaper at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. A senior from Barre, Vt., Linda directs a staff of 60 men. She is majoring in industrial management. At M.I.T. there is only one woman student to every 60 men.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

CHICAGO, July 26—There is a head-on issue of truth or falsehood between the statements of Senator Barry Goldwater and the Kennedy brothers in their accounts of the McClellan Committee's investigation of Walter Reuther's empire, the United Auto Workers. Either Goldwater is lying or the Kennedys lied in their self-serving book called "The Enemy Within," dealing with the union racket inquiry.

Goldwater has long insisted that Senator Jack Kennedy protected Reuther and his union. Reuther is now the chief union henchman of the Kennedy campaign.

Jack and his younger brother, Robert, chief counsel to the committee, took over the investigation from Chairman John McClellan, an Arkansas Democrat who was unacquainted with the subject because Arkansas is not an industrial state. Goldwater says they ran things as they pleased. In the committee's majority report and in "The Enemy Within" they whitewashed Reuther and the UAW.

Goldwater is preparing a separate account for the campaign. Meanwhile his version is contained in the committee's minority report. Barry alone carried on the fight against Reuther and the Kennedys and a clique of Washington reporters and commentators of the news magazines and radio-TV. He ordered two reporters out of his office after calling them liars and threatened to throw them out by hand if they ever came back. That is no way to cultivate the Washington cabal. The Kennedys, on the other hand, make general accusations of bribery or payola against reporters and broadcasters whom they do not name. There is a mother lode of pay dirt here reminiscent of the Van Doren TV quiz scandal.

Assuming that the Kennedys collaborated on Bobby's book, they wrote that Jack McGovern, a Republican lawyer and investigator for the committee, laid an egg in Goldwater's pet project. This was the long reign of terror by the UAW at Kohler, Wis., in which one victim was beaten so badly that he died.

The Kennedys said McGovern turned in a report consisting mainly of warmed-over documents of the Labor Relations Board. Goldwater retorts that the committee, with a staff sometimes as large as 100 qualified experts, refused to give McGovern even one assistant.

Eisenhower Record Called Key to Republican Victory

By DAVID LAWRENCE

CHICAGO, July 26.—The man who holds the key to the national election this autumn came to town and was cheered by at least 1,000,000 persons in perhaps one of the most significant demonstrations in American politics.

For if what the critics have been saying about the Eisenhower administration had really sunk in with the people as a whole, then there would never have been the outpouring of people and the spontaneous expressions of applause noted here. Dwight Eisenhower, it will be said, has always been a popular figure and some have argued that, while this won campaigns for him, he cannot transfer his strength to anybody else. History doesn't agree with that appraisal. This writer remembers how the popular Teddy Roosevelt in 1908 transferred his own strength even to the colorless and relatively unknown William Howard Taft and produced the biggest landslide in electoral votes known up to that time. "TR," incidentally, was a war hero, too, having been dramatically associated with the Spanish-American War victory in Cuba.

Eisenhower's Record

What Dwight Eisenhower brings to the campaign is a record which his opponents have denounced but of which he himself is proud. He feels he served the public interest by keeping the nation out of war. Though a military man himself, he refused to do any sabre-rattling and instead has worked unceasingly for the cause of war prevention.

The military story Mr. Eisenhower summed up in a few words:

"In the sum of our capabilities we have become the strongest military power on earth. But just as Job has his boils, so we have a cult of professional pessimists who, taking counsel of their fears, continually mouth the allegation that America has become a second-rate military power."

Warns on Misleading

"Whoever misleads by a calculated use of some and not all the facts, whoever distorts the truth to serve selfish ambition, whoever asserts weakness where strength exists—makes a mockery of the democratic process and misrepresents our beloved country in the eyes of the watching world."

"The irrefutable truths are that the United States is enjoying an unprecedented prosperity; that it has, in co-operation with its friends and allies, the strongest security system in the world, and that it is working ceaselessly and effectively for a peace with justice, in freedom."

As for the economic situation, the President put it up this way: "The economic story can be quickly, succinctly and accurately told. There are more Americans today employed, at higher wages and with more take-home pay than ever before in our history. And today they have more confidence in the stability of their money than they have enjoyed in three decades."

On National Prestige

On the "national prestige" argument, the President made a ten-strike when he challenged Nikita Khrushchev as follows: "The Soviet dictator has said that he has, in his recent journeys and speeches, succeeded in damaging the prestige of America. Concerning this matter of comparative national prestige, I challenge him to make this test: Will he agree to the holding of free elections under the sponsorship of the United Nations—to permit people everywhere—in every nation and on every continent, to vote on one single, simple issue? That issue is: Do you want to live under a Communist regime or under a free system such as is found in the United States? Are the Soviets willing to measure their world prestige by the results of such elections? The United States would gladly do so."

Ike's speech to the convention on Tuesday night couldn't be couched in the same phrases that he will use once the new nominee for President is selected. Then he can make it more personal and speak of Nixon and his capabilities.

But the two main issues of the campaign turn on the record of the Eisenhower administration. Do people have jobs? Are times good in the broad sense? Do the people appreciate the fact that in the last seven years their sons have not been engaged in a war? The last affair—the Korean War—cost more than 130,000 casualties and was fought 8,000 miles away from the homes of American families. Will this happen again?

What Peace Issue Means

Some of these questions are especially influential in public reaction to the so-called peace issue. Actually, it's an issue that has to do with keeping the boys now being drafted or the ones who have served already from being sent to the front lines of any war, large or small. The President has borne the brunt of international crises for many years. He has had to take in especially in Korea, but these are minor incidents that can be tolerated by the President and the country far better than the consequences of any action which could lead to war.

Mr. Eisenhower in the coming campaign will ask for a vote of confidence in his Administration. He will point to Richard Nixon as a man familiar with the details of the Eisenhower policies in the world and experienced in the methods to be used in carrying them on. The President will argue against change at this critical time in history. That's why Dwight Eisenhower's visit to Chicago becomes a memorable opening of the actual campaign to obtain at the polls a vote of approval for the Administration, which will assert emphatically that it has brought good times in an economic sense and has kept the nation out of war.

and sentenced to 2½ to 15 years in Michigan State Reformatory." He also had numerous bank accounts—all on a salary of $12,000 a year but with an informal sideline in slot machines in Toledo.

The Kennedy book glanced lightly over Gossler. The question remains—who is lying here?

Tomatoes Endangered

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—The early and heavy summer rains and possible dry weather later this summer have endangered tomato plants in the state, Prof. Philip Minges of the State College of Agriculture says.

Minges said Tuesday the rain caused tomato plants to develop shallow root systems unable to cope with drought. Tomato-growers should irrigate plants in dry weather to prevent an outbreak of blossom end rot, he said.

West Point Cadets Get Practical Experience With Army in Germany

By JOHN BAUSMAN
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A group of West Point cadets, selected from next June's graduating class, is in Germany this summer to sample life in the Army's combat-ready units overseas.

It is all part of a Military Academy program to put cadets into junior officer jobs with active units to let them know what will be expected of them after graduation. In the past the program has been confined to the stateside Army, but this year some of the Academy's first classmen have been sent to Europe for what is officially known as their Army orientation training.

"It's the best training I've had yet," commented Cadet Richard Buckner, 20, West Point's varsity football center. He landed in an artillery battalion assigned to the 212th Group in nearby Hanau on the Main River.

First Actual Experience
Interviewed on a field exercise with the battery's self-propelled 155 howitzers, Buckner explained he had read all about "laying a battery" in the textbooks but is now getting his first actual practice in this and other battery duties.

Although not yet commissioned, the cadets are treated as officers, live in officers' quarters and have a rank that would be equal to a third lieutenant, if such a thing existed.

"We were instructed to treat them just like any new junior officers. There is no special treatment or special training program," said Capt. Alan M. Baird of Pawtucket, R. I., training officer for the 212th Group, which got a total of six cadets.

Assigned to Units
Altogether 222 cadets were assigned to 7th Army units scattered throughout West Germany and 7 sent to the smaller Berlin command.

With a few exceptions, the cadets chosen for European assignment are those who drew the "beast detail" last summer. This is Academy jargon for second classmen selected to break in the new class of plebes in their first summer of training.

"It's tougher than basic (training)," said Cadet Howard M. Potter, 20, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., who like Buckner ended up at Hanau in the 4th Howitzer Battalion of the 18th Artillery. But he declined to regard this summer's European assignment as a reward or compensation for having drawn the "beast detail" while other cadets went off to Army camps in the states last summer.

It is just another assignment, he remarked, and it depends on the individual whether he prefers duty in Europe to duty in the states. For Potter it would seem to be an advantage.

To Do Touring
He and three fellow cadets plan a month of touring in Europe during their leave following their four weeks of training duty.

Buckner, on the other hand, is one of those who will head home to The Bronx in New York as soon as training is over. He has a construction job waiting there to keep him busy during his leave.

"It will be moving bricks from one place to another or something like that and should get me in pretty good shape for football," he observed.

The battalion works on a continuous training program, in the field and in lecture rooms, which keeps the cadets busy all day. In the evening they have free time, unless there is a lecture to prepare for the next day.

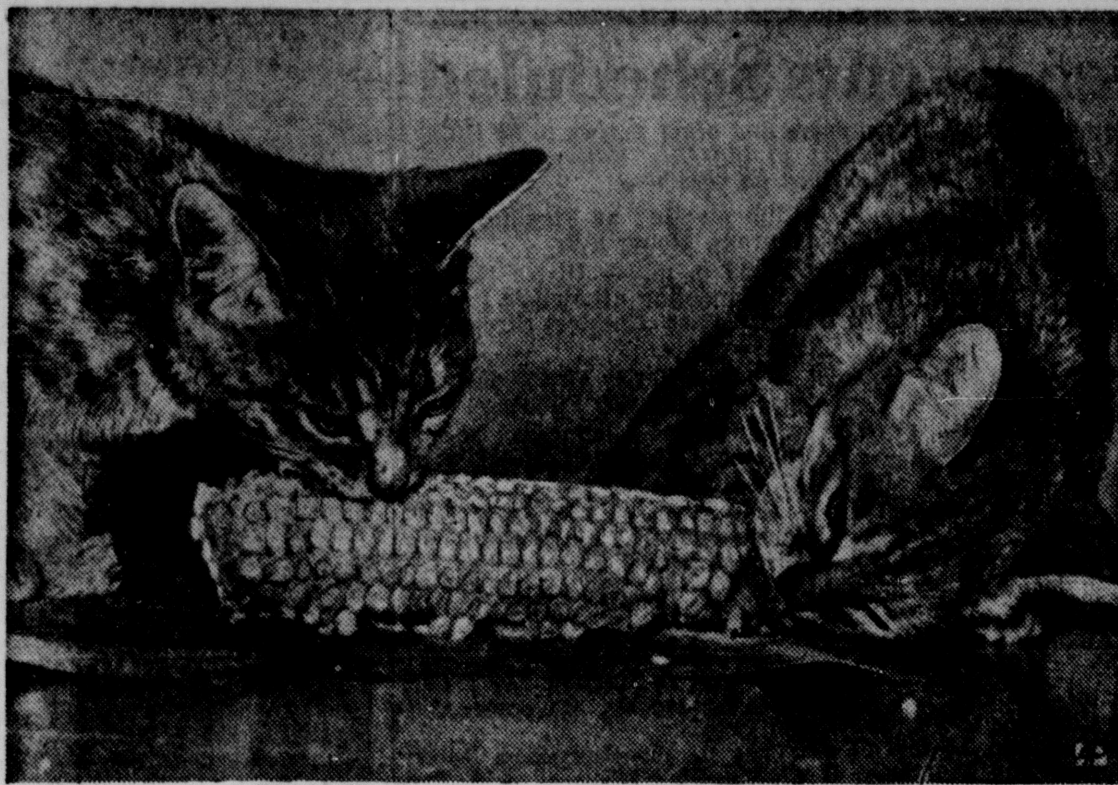

"We turn in pretty early, or at least I do," said Buckner. "I like a lot of sleep. You know, they say sleep is a cadet's middle name."

Potter, who was scheduled to lecture his troops on enemy contacts. The Geneva Convention and the Code of Conduct that afternoon, had spent the previous evening brushing up on the subject.

Easy Compared to Point
Although the cadets have by now spent three years at the Academy, their troop training here touches points not always covered at West Point or on which they have become rusty.

At the end of the month, the cadets will get together in Frankfurt for a final critique on their training before going on leave. Most will probably agree with Potter that they were kept busy but it was easy compared to the usual West Point pressure.

"You've got to gear yourself down for this after what we're used to at West Point," he remarked.

Town of Esopus Offers Salk Shots At Clinic Tonight

All three Salk vaccine shots will be administered at a polio clinic for residents of the Town of Esopus tonight from 7 to 9 p. m. at the Legion Home, Legion Court, Port Ewen.

This will be the third in a series of clinics sponsored by Town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion. The first two were held in November and December.

Emphasis was placed on the importance of the clinic by the Public Health Service which this week reported a sharp rise in polio cases throughout the nation.

Nurses assisting in the clinic are under the direction of Mrs. Lester E. Sanford. Salk vaccine is made available by Ulster County Chapter of the National Polio Foundation. Other supplies are provided by Ulster County Health Department.

Think It Through

"ON WITH THE DANCE"

"Don't sell America short" has been good advice for 150 years. But it does not call for "frenzied finance," nor spend-thrifts playing whoppee with the nation's purse.

No doubt the same thing was said in the three or four hundred years in which Greece, Rome and other empires rose—and fell. The greatest fortunes have been dissipated by one or two generations of wastrel heirs.

Last January the President submitted a balanced budget for the fiscal year that began July 1st.

In a single day shortly before Congress adjourned, the Senate Finance Committee voted to cut various taxes that would reduce revenues by 750,000,000 $'s a year. Senator Byrd was the only Democrat to vote against the cut.

On the same day, the House voted, 377 to 40, to raise Federal employees' pay by 697,000,000 $'s.

On the same day, Congress voted 3,944,000,000 $'s for the farmers.

The next day, the Senate voted 1,000,000,000 $'s more for Defense than the President had requested.

Not all these actions are final and the national debt limit must soon be raised again.

Whatever this nation needs, we should pay for!

That we have so far escaped collapse, despite 30 years of charging it on the cuff, is no proof that the history of the ages will not repeat.

Portugal Hopes to Sit Out African Trouble

ANGOLA borders on the seething, newborn Republic of Congo. It is Portugal's biggest African holding, some 481,000 square miles. Governed by a governor general with extensive powers, Angola has been a Portuguese possession since 1575.

MOZAMBIQUE, 297,000 square miles, borders on troubled Nyasaland, Has Union of South Africa, Rhodesia and Tanganyika as other neighbors.

PORTUGUESE GUINEA, 14,000 square miles, has newly independent Mali Federation and former French Guinea on its borders.

ISLANDS of Principe and San Tome, off Africa's west coast, form a Portuguese province, operating under a governor.

PORTUGAL SITS TIGHT — Portugal, first European nation to colonize Africa, will be the last to leave the dark continent if she has anything to say about it. Her nearly 800,000 square miles of territory in Africa are of immense value to Portugal. Portuguese officials, who regard their holdings as provinces rather than colonies, consider that Africa is fast becoming the weak spot in the West's defenses. At stake for Portugal should Africa go Red: extensive agricultural and mineral holdings, including diamonds and gold.

Though Portuguese areas are generally calm to date, trouble could well spread across borders, which often are, in effect, mere lines on a map. Example: recent "invasion" of natives from Tanganyika into Mozambique in unsuccessful effort to break up a tribal meeting. Broadcasts and other gimmicks used by propagandists harass the Portuguese from sources outside the various borders. So far, these efforts have failed to dissuade Portugal from her avowed intent to sit tight in Africa.

Republicans Take Six Years To OK Outlawing Segregation

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

CHICAGO (AP)—It has taken the Republicans, as a party, six years to get around to saying they think the Supreme Court was right in outlawing segregation in public schools. The Democrats, as a party, haven't said it yet.

The court handed down its decision May 17, 1954. The first chance either party had to come out flatly in approval of the court's historic and far-reaching action was in their party platforms in the 1956 campaign. Both backed away from a flat approval.

Both parties of course, had their eye on the Southern white vote. Too hearty an endorsement of the court ruling was a cinch to cost votes in the South for the party bold enough to try it.

In their 1956 platform the Republicans wouldn't go any further than saying their "party accepts the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court that racial discrimination in publicly supported schools must be progressively eliminated."

Ike Never Said

This was quite a long way from saying the party approved what the court did. President Eisenhower himself set the pace for such a caution by avoiding saying to this day that he approves the court's action.

But in 1956 the Democrats' platform was even more cagey than that of the Republicans. The Democrats, whose Southern members have been a constant obstacle to civil rights legislation in Congress, contented themselves with this: "Recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States relating to segregation in publicly supported schools and elsewhere have brought consequences of vast importance to our nation as a whole and especially to communities directly affected."

It was hardly news that the court decision was going to force big changes.

Still Avoid Endorsement

Two weeks ago at Los Angeles the Democrats produced the strongest civil rights plank in their history—one which may cost them some Southern white votes—but still avoided flat endorsement of what the court did in 1954.

Southern delegates at the Democratic convention were unhappy over the whole civil rights plank of the party. Then the Republicans moved into Chicago for their convention.

Southern white Republican delegates fought against any strong civil rights plank though Vice President Richard M. Nixon said he wanted a firm one.

Negro leaders told the Republicans that if they expected Negro votes in the November elections, they couldn't afford to come out with a civil right plank weaker than the Democrats.

GOP Goes Further

For days the Republican Platform Committee—at a time when it knew the Democratic plank might cost the Democrats some white Southern votes—fiddled around with the idea of coming up with a less forthright plank than the Democrats.

In the end it produced a civil rights plank which in some ways was a little tougher than the Democrats' promises on civil rights and in other ways was a little softer.

But the Republicans' civil rights plank wound up being the strongest the party had yet produced. And, on the subject of the court's 1954 decision, the Republicans went further than the Democrats have ever dared to go.

The Republicans said flatly: "We supported the position of the Negro school children even before the Supreme Court. We believe the Supreme Court school decision was right and should be carried out in accordance with the mandate of the court."

Russia to Participate In Rochester Parley

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Russia has announced that it will participate in the 10th annual High-Energy Physics Conference at the University of Rochester Aug. 26.

The Soviet announcement, made known Tuesday removes the doubt created by the U2 spyplane incident whether or not the Russians would send a delegation.

Dr. Robert E. Marshak, head of the university's physics department and chairman of the meeting, said the Russians confirmed their intention to send scientists but would not say how many.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—James W. Ross, 41, who last month was named city editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and Sun-Telegraph, died Tuesday after suffering a heart attack.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Cedric Gibbons, 65, winner of 11 Academy awards for movie art direction, died Tuesday after a long illness. He retired four years ago after 32 years as head of the department.

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—N. D. (Dan) Teters, 59, vice president of the Morrison-Knudsen Co., construction firm with global operations, died Monday at his home in Friday Harbor, Wash., the company announced here. Teters was project manager on Wake Island when the island fell to the Japanese in 1941 and he spent four years in prison camps.

matter of FACT

Win fame—discover a comet! Your name will go down in history, as comets are named for their finders. A surprising number of amateur astronomers have found them. The amateur picks a small area of the heavens to scan. He reports any light patch not in his star atlas. This may be a new comet. If no one's beat him to it, the comet will be "his."

Gardiner Group Is Against 'Phone Tax

At a meeting of the Gardiner Civic Association held Monday evening the Association went on record as opposing the State of New York "picking up" the telephone tax, should the Federal government reject it in 1961, and applying it to the reduction of school taxes.

The Association felt that the application of the 10 per cent telephone tax for reduction of school taxes would be "discriminatory to small taxpayers and a benefit to big business only." It was estimated that only 14 per cent of those paying the telephone tax in Gardiner would benefit if the state took over the tax if abandoned by the Federal government in 1961.

50 New Lightning Fires Give More Trouble to West

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Pacific Northwest, its biggest week-end fires still out of control, had more than 50 new lightning-caused fires today.

The new blazes in Oregon and Washington and Idaho came as a lightning storm passed over the area Tuesday. Most were small and fire fighters rushed to quell them early.

At Boise, Idaho, Bill Logan, 28, was jailed for arson in connection with a 25,000-acre fire that blackened rangeland near Marsing, Idaho, and along the Oregon border.

Thousands of fire fighters continued their struggle. The biggest, the 20,000-acre Anthony Lakes fire in the Walla-Walla National Forest, remained unchecked.

Other big fires in the Walla-Walla National Forest broke over fire lines Tuesday. They were the Cummings Creek fire of 2,000 acres in the Pomeroy district of southeast Washington; the 5,000-acre Spring Creek fire at the eastern tip of Oregon; and Cow Creek fire, also in eastern Oregon of 16,000 acres. The Pony Creek fire in the Snake River Canyon was not ringed by lines and had burned 10,500 acres.

In Idaho, the 12,000-acre Hells Canyon fire in Payette National Forest; a 4,000-acre Johnson Bar fire in north-central Idaho; and a 7,000-acre brush fire north of Dubois in Targhee National Forest were still out of control.

Starr Charged With Strangling Woman

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Gordon George Starr, 28, a former New York state trooper, is awaiting a hearing on a charge that he strangled a woman because "she didn't love me."

Starr, who said he had a wife and four children in Elmira, N.Y., is accused of slaying Miss Jeanette Humphrey, 24. He was arrested Tuesday in Municipal Court on a charge of murder.

Starr told newsmen he was a policeman for five years, first in Elmira, then with the State Police. He said he left New York in 1958 and met Miss Humphrey in San Antonio, Tex., in 1959. Her parents live in Houston.

Starr's parents live in nearby Chula Vista.

Judge Joseph A. Kilgarriff set Starr's preliminary hearing for Aug. 15. He was remanded to county jail without bail.

Cherry Supreme Cake Ring Is a Fruit-Filled Delight

FOR A REALLY gala summer dessert: cherry supreme cake (made from box mix), with fresh fruits placed in the center.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Food and Markets Editor

Looking for a de luxe summer dessert with very little work? Then here are two gala answers:

Cherry Supreme Cake With Fruit

Prepare a package of cherry supreme cake mix according to directions on package. Pour batter into a greased and floured 3-quart ring mold. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool slightly and unmold according to directions. When completely cool, glaze with heated apricot or peach jam. When ready to serve fill center with fresh or frozen fruits, sugared to taste.

Ferrara Taken To Comstock for Parole Violation

Peter Ferrara, 19, of 17 Liberty Street, who was paroled from Elmira Reformatory recently, was taken to the Green Meadow Correctional Institution, Comstock, this morning for violation of parole.

Ferrara was hospitalized last Saturday morning with birdshot wounds of the right arm following a fracas at a Phoenixia tavern.

He was picked up at Benedictine Hospital this morning by County Investigator Arthur Brown of the Ulster county sheriff's office and turned over to parole officers who drove him to Comstock.

Ferrara and Vincent Bouck, 21, of 486 Wilbur Avenue, were involved in an altercation at the Hill Billy Hideout after they allegedly made annoying remarks to a woman patron of the tavern. Her male companions objected.

One of the Ferrara party left the tavern, returning a few moments later and slipping an object of some kind into Ferrara's hand.

A few moments later Ferrara suddenly flashed a large kitchen knife and challenged the woman's companions to a fight. There were no takers.

The Ferrara group, numbering about four, then left the tavern and drove off, cruising back and forth several times past the tavern, finally returning to the parking area.

A patrolman listed by Kingston state police as Levon Telian, 28, address not listed, accosted the Ferrara group with a shotgun and told them to get going. Ferrara and a companion took to their heels, darting toward the woods.

Telian said he fired a blast to frighten Ferrara. State police explained that the youth apparently changed his direction in the darkness and ran into the path of the blast.

Floods Continue As Dams Crumble In Southern Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) Water continued to pour today over a valley normally inhabited by 100,000 persons as earthen dams crumbled further below Lake Rincón in southern Chile.

Heavy rainstorms, strong winds and earth tremors added to the plight of the thousands of refugees from Valdivia, in the heart of the valley, a city devastated by earthquakes in May and now almost certain to be destroyed by flood waters from the swollen lake 50 miles upstream.

Several towns in the valley already were under water. Only the tops of houses were visible from the air.

Four fishermen were reported drowned when their boat overturned in the rampaging torrent.

Army engineers Tuesday evacuated the last of some 40,000 persons from Valdivia and took them to temporary quarters on high ground.

The first brick house built in America was occupied by William Penn.

Cherry Supreme Cake Ring Is a Fruit-Filled Delight

By GEOFFREY GOULD

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower says it is "irrefutable truth" that the nation is enjoying unprecedented prosperity, has the strongest military system in the world and is working ceaselessly for peace.

He gave this assessment of his years of stewardship in the White House to an enthusiastic "Thank You Ike Day" session of the GOP National Convention Tuesday night.

Points to Pessimists Especially in the fields of national defense and economic growth, Eisenhower strongly defended his administration's record. At many points his speech struck at the Democrats, but he could as well have been speaking of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller when he said:

"Just as the Biblical Job had his boils, so we have a cult of professional pessimists who, taking counsel of their fears, continually mouth the allegation that America has become a second-rate military power."

Rockefeller has criticized several phases of administration activity.

Gets Warm Welcome Eisenhower, who is nearing 70, received a warm "we like Ike" reception from the GOP delegates.

He was warmly greeted by two men nearly eight years ago after two decades of being on the outside.

The President, as he has before, came up with a dramatic challenge to the dictator in the Kremlin.

Would the Soviet dictator, Eisenhower asked, "agree to holding free elections under the sponsorship of the United Nations to permit people everywhere—in every nation and on every continent, to vote on one single, simple issue?"

"That issue is: Do you want to live under a Communist regime or under a free system such as found in the United States?"

"Are the Soviets willing to measure their world prestige by the result of such elections?"

"The United States would gladly do so."

Lists Achievements

The President listed a string of achievements of the domestic front, defended the administration's conduct on foreign affairs, and said "there are more Americans today employed, at higher wages and with more take-home pay than ever before in our history."

Speaking of gross national product—the sum of all the goods and services produced in the nation—Eisenhower said "we are fed a great deal of information—and much more of misinformation."

Makes Comparison "The interesting fact is that in these past seven and a half years the annual gross national product has increased by one hundred billion dollars—or 25 per cent."

"During the almost eight-year duration of the prior, Democratic administration, the gross national product actually declined in every single peacetime year, save one."

Eisenhower defended his long struggle against inflation, which critics have said has blinded him to more pressing problems.

"In the face of all the efforts of the reckless spenders to thwart the administration, a budgetary surplus has been achieved, fiscal responsibility maintained, and confidence restored," he said.

In the military field, Eisenhower said when he came to office his administration had to start almost from scratch in the field of ballistic missiles, and in his term has developed a varied arsenal of these powerful new weapons.

Hargrave Going

have been greatly interested for a number of years.

During his tenure of office in this country Dr. Hargrave has served as county medical director, Civil Defense, and as a board member of the Cerebral Palsy Clinic, the Cancer Society, the Mental Health Center, the Tuberculosis & Health Association and the Port Jervis Board of Water Commissioners. He has held membership in the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, the Council of Social Agencies and the Kingston Rotary Club. He is a Fellow of the American College of Preventive Medicine, a Diplomate of the American Board of Preventive Medicine and a member of the American Public Health Association and the New York State and Ulster County Medical Societies.

Dr. Hargrave said he will continue to maintain his residence in Port Jervis.

The Board announced that it has several applications for Ulster County Health Commissioner under consideration.

Stokes, Mercier

John DeGraff appeared for Walter Truck Company.

The indictment charged there was collusion between the three defendants to conspire to permit Barella to submit the low bid of $19,855 for the truck and snow plow equipment purchased by the Town of Woodstock in January 1959.

No opinion was available today in either matter, it being ascertained that the Court had dismissed both matters without costs.

Special prosecutor Bernard Tompkins on being informed of the decisions said he would have "no comment until I have seen the decisions." It is expected copies of the decisions will be mailed today to counsel.

Fekkes Charged With 4 Murders

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) —The murders of four persons in a doctor's home last January have been formally charged to Michael Fekkes, already accused of slaying two policemen earlier this month.

Prosecutor Edward J. Dolan of Middlesex County, where all six killings took place, filed a four-count murder charge against Fekkes Tuesday before Magistrate George Nicola of North Brunswick.

Fekkes, 25, a Hungarian refugee, was still in critical condition in Elizabeth General Hospital, Elizabeth, from a bullet between the eyes—which Dolan said was fired by Fekkes himself.

Fekkes was captured in Union two days after the policemen were shot to death in his Highland Park apartment. Union police found him lying wounded behind a knoll in the woods after they surprised him in a gun duel. He had been sought in an intensive manhunt throughout central New Jersey.

Fekkes became the top suspect in the murders of Mrs. Edith Clarke, 67, invalid wife of Dr. Francis Clarke, and three others—a housekeeper, companion, a maid, and a Newark taxi driver who apparently brought the killer to the North Brunswick home last Jan. 26.

The two Franklin Township patrolmen were shot to death July 10—almost six months after the Clarke slayings. The officers had agreed to take Fekkes home so he could pick up bail money for traffic violations.

Follow Middle Course Is Ike's Advice in Talk

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

CHICAGO (AP) — President Eisenhower today urged Republican candidates to follow "the great middle road" and ignore the gutter, left or right.

Eisenhower held forth to Republican office-seekers at a party breakfast the philosophy of Abraham Lincoln that the government should undertake only those things that the people are unable to do themselves.

"We ought to use it as a flaming battle flag on the highest mast the Republican party can put up and fight for it always," Eisenhower said.

This approach to government is difficult to defend, the President added, and requires intelligent explanation or will be attacked from both flanks.

"But that is exactly what we have to do," he said.

The Republican party possesses great strength, however, Eisenhower said, "because so many people want to go in exactly that direction."

Eisenhower addressed a breakfast meeting of his own Cabinet members and GOP candidates for various offices. About 600 attended the affair, in the Morrison Hotel.

Will Take Rest It was Eisenhower's last scheduled appearance in this convention city before heading for Denver, where he will spend the rest of the week.

"In the operation of any great human organism," Eisenhower told his fellow Republicans, "constructive plans and programs must be developed in what we call the great middle road."

The President said most people instinctively "grow to like the paved highway stretching before them and they understand that here is where human progress is achieved."

He said "we are truly a middle of the road party." By that, he added, "I don't mean walking just a wishy-washy path—not at all."

Eisenhower said there are those who insist on "marching in the gutter, the extremes of the right and left," but he declared that they "in the long run are always defeated."

Must Find Broad Road He set forth this goal: "You must find the broad highway and you must ignore the gutters."

In the Republican party, he said, he found few, if any, "who are in the gutters."

The President was acclaimed in a manner he'll never forget when he arrived Tuesday.

A throng of about one million roared an exuberant welcome and showered the President and his wife with confetti, ticker tape and gay balloons.

Rockefeller Puts His Arm Around Nixon: He'll Win

By JACK BELL
CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—In relaxed mood, the Republicans whirled through a round of social activities and sightseeing today preliminary to their convention's big moment tonight—the nomination of Richard M. Nixon for president.

Tensions and quarrels over the platform had faded. The mood was: Close ranks and wham the Democrats.

Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who once looked as prospective antagonists at this convention, breakfasted together in great harmony.

Accompanied by Mrs. Nixon, the vice president went over to Rockefeller's hotel for breakfast with the governor and the New York delegation.

Meet at Curb Rockefeller met him at the curb and they all but embraced, looking like a couple of old college buddies at a 25th class reunion.

Nixon called New York the key state in what he said was going to be a very close election contest.

Rockefeller, his arm around Nixon, declared "he's going to win with New York state in the fall."

In an informal interview, Nixon made it definite that his vice presidential running mate will not be selected until Thursday.

He said there would be a meeting tonight—or Thursday if tonight's convention session runs late—of party leaders from all sections to talk about a vice presidential nominee.

"I want to have a full discussion of it before we have a final decision," Nixon said.

In response to questions, he said Rockefeller will certainly be one of those consulted. He also mentioned Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as among those whose opinions he desires.

Goldwater is at the extreme right wing of the GOP. He was critical of last weekend's Nixon-Rockefeller statement of principles, calling it a surrender by Nixon. He also didn't like some aspects of the platform.

Lodge Gets Attention Nixon's mention of the Arizona senator as one of those to be consulted about the vice presidential nominee tended to emphasize the ranks-closing phase into which Nixon, in firm control of the convention, has now carried it. The name still getting most attention in speculation as to the No. 2 spot on the ticket was that of U. N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Also figuring in it were Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, Rep. Walter Judd of Minnesota and Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton.

Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan had his backers, too.

President Eisenhower, who was given his big day and night here yesterday in what the convention called "Thank You Ike Day," breakfasted with his own Cabinet officers and GOP candidates for various offices—about 600 in all.

Eisenhower was presented a bust of Abraham Lincoln. Gov. William G. Stratton gave it to him on behalf of the people of Illinois.

In a little speech of acceptance, Eisenhower recalled Lincoln's pronouncement that the government should undertake only those things that the people are unable to do themselves.

With this as his text, the President urged that GOP candidates follow "the great middle road" and ignore the gutter, left or right.

Insects Invade Sectors of City, City Hall Reports

Mayor Edwin F. Radel said today after being notified by Alderman Frank C. Sass, Seventh Ward, of an infestation of insects of a centipede or millipede type in the downtown area, an investigation would be made to determine the most effective way of combating the menace.

The insects, which have a hard shell, were reported swarming in county areas earlier in the month, and were said not to be overly harmful or damaging. They have also been reported in an uptown sector and in other city areas.

Alderman Sass said the heaviest infestation in the Seventh Ward was on Hunter between Hone and Wurts Streets. They have also been reported on Clinton Avenue between John and North Front Streets.

A report on the insects several days ago indicated that the infestations are not of long duration.

Think That Congo Should Become UN Trust Area

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The Belgian government believes this newly independent Congo republic should become a United Nations trust territory, highly placed Belgian sources said today.

"Only a strong United Nations administration can save this country from chaos and disaster," a Belgian official said.

He said it was the view of the Belgian government that there is no other solution to the strife-torn former Belgian colony but to turn it over entirely to the U.N.

A Belgian Embassy spokesman stressed that Belgium will continue to view the Congolese government as virtually nonexistent.

The return of Belgian technicians to help state off the Congo's economic collapse is impossible at this time the spokesman said. He was commenting on Congolese Finance Minister Pascal Nkany's appeal to Belgians to return to their posts.

Finds $62 Mrs. Joseph A. Sullivan, of 250 Bank Street, Waterbury, Conn., turned in at police headquarters Tuesday afternoon a brown envelope with $62 in bills which she had found on Clinton Avenue near the Governor Clinton Hotel. Police said its owner was found to be Sherman H. Low, of 17 Flatbush Avenue, who was to be notified.

Services Will Be Shortened, Says Pope in Document

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII, in major liturgical reform for the Roman Catholic Church, today announced that a new code of rules for the Roman Breviary and Mass will become effective Jan. 1.

In a formal document—a "Motu Proprio" or order by the Pope's "own hand"—the head of the Roman Catholic Church said the new rules will be promulgated soon.

He said the new code combines the rules "in a better form, arranged in a clearer order, and religious services will be shortened and simplified."

He did not specify what changes will be made.

The 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said a new calendar of the Breviary and Mass also will be issued.

Pope John noted that the rules have undergone constant change through the centuries. He said these changes were "not always in a systematic order and therefore not without damage to the primitive (original) simplicity and foresight."

Pope John said he decided to propose to the ecumenical council a meeting of Roman Catholic prelates from around the world, expected to convene in a year or two — fundamental principles for liturgical reforms.

Africans Stream Back to Work After Rioting

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Long lines of Africans streamed back to work today, indicating a return to normal after three days of rioting in which at least nine Negroes were killed and 118 injured.

Eighty per cent of the labor force was back at work in the city's 450 factories after a work boycott that accompanied the violence. The rest of the workers were expected on the job later.

Military cordons protected all roads to the industrial sites from interference by diehard rioters.

Police confirmed that their gunfire killed five of the slain nine Africans. The police said they fired in self-defense. At least one of the dead was battered to death by rioters enforcing the work boycott.

The rioting was confined to the city's African sectors, which more than 2,000 European and African soldiers and police sealed off to protect the city's 45,000 whites.

Soldiers established a number of tactical strong points throughout the violence areas. The rioters also lost considerable of their zeal after they drank up all the looted beer and wine that helped fuel their orgy of violence and burning.

Vols to March

through Saturday, July 30, and firemen passing through the village are invited to attend the carnival.

Starting at McEntee Street and Broadway, promptly at 5 p. m. Saturday the parade will be headed by the Honor Guard, Kingston Fire Chief James Brett, Ulster County Fire Coordinator Winifred Snyder and George Majestic, president of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

From McEntee Street the line of march will be up Broadway to Albany Avenue, Clinton Avenue, Main Street, Wall Street to North Front Street and to Dietz Stadium. The director of traffic will park apparatus at the stadium.

The check-in point will be Rapid Hose firehouse at Spring and Hone Streets.

The seven-division parade will be composed of the following companies, plus any late arrivals which will drop in at the end of the seventh division.

First Division

Washington Hook and Ladder Company No. 1.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary will parade in the same division as their company.

At the stadium trophies will be awarded to the fire company having the most men in line and the best appearing company in line. The Ladies Auxiliary trophy will be for the best appearing Auxiliary in line.

Mutual Savings Banks History Is Subject at Lions

Clifford Henze, executive vice president and treasurer of the Kingston Savings Bank traced the history of the Mutual Savings Banks at the regular luncheon meeting of the Kingston Lions Club yesterday. A new film, "Passbook to Happiness," was enthusiastically viewed by the Lions members.

Henze stated that the purpose of the savings bank is to teach and encourage people of all ages to save.

Highlights of the film were the facts that today four million Americans live in homes financed by savings banks; there are no stockholders in Mutual Savings Banks—the depositors own the bank; and mutual savings banks, besides financing homes, also furnish funds to build apartments, factories, stores, hospitals, churches and schools.

The Mutual Savings Bank was organized in 1819 in New York State and one of the first undertakings was to finance the Erie Canal and put New York State "on top." The Mutual Savings Bank, Henze pointed out, has come a long way since 1819 to the present where modern machinery such as the electronic computers save time and errors.

West Pass . . .

and eliminate the need of spanning it. A section of city boundary line was changed by local and state legislation authorizing the change and thus keeping the entire project beyond city limits.

Engineer Rauer today said that if a low bid is approved soon after Aug. 25, work on the first phase of the project could get under way in late September.

The connecting point with Route 28 and the first phase of the route will be 2,000 feet west of the Thruway. It will extend north and then east to the western approach of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge.

The bypass will be carried on structures over the Sawkill Road, the Thruway, and Esopus Creek, and will pass under a structure at the Neighborhood Road. Portions of Neighborhood Road and 9W will be relocated and interchanges will be built at Sawkill Road, Neighborhood Road and 9W as well as those connecting Route 28 and the Thruway.

An Albany announcement noted that maps, plans, specifications and proposal forms "may be seen and obtained at the office of the State Department of Public Works, Bureau of Contracts, Albany, at the district engineer's office, Poughkeepsie, and at the office of the State Department of Public Works, 270 Broadway, New York.

Bids will be received in Albany up to 10 a. m., Aug. 25. They will be opened starting at 10:30 a. m. in Hearing Room No. 1, Gov. Alfred E. Smith State Office Building, Albany, for the 202 bypass project and for projects in 24 other counties involving 153.67 miles of road. The total estimated cost of all projects is $30,440,000.

Financial Transactions

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ran its recovery into the second straight session early this afternoon. Trading was very quiet.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .70 to 214.10 with the industrials up 1.40, the rails up .10 and the utilities up .10.

The list was carrying through a technical recovery from just above its 1960 lows—a level which provided support twice before.

Brokers felt the news background was a bit brighter. U.S. Steel reported a recovery in orders. Auto sales continued their upturn.

Steels, motors, retail, and electronics were higher. Leading chemicals produced some good gains. Tobacco eased. Drugs were mixed.

The market was higher at the start when backed away from its best gains. Most of the advances were fractional and a wide assortment of stocks showed little or no change.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.79 to 608.54. Corporate bonds were slightly higher. U.S. government bonds improved.

Suffers Bad Burns

Herbert Riffenburgh of Greenport, Columbia County, received first degree burns Monday night when a hay bailer he was operating caught fire and exploded. Operating the bailer for Saul Dauski, on the L. P. Church property at Mt. Merino, Riffenburgh suffered the burns when the gas tank exploded on the bailer. The bailer backfired, set fire to the grass and the gas tank blew up. He was treated at Columbia Memorial Hospital.

The fires set in Rome by Emperor Nero burned for eight days.

now agreed with Rockefeller on basic issues and therefore was deserving of support. There was no praise of the vice president as an individual.

The New York endorsement of Nixon had no numerical significance.

Nixon supporters were claiming more than 1,000 votes on the first ballot, regardless of what New York did.

But the action — a Rockefeller endorsement of Nixon — was something Republicans had long waited for.

Decisive State

New York will be a key and perhaps decisive state in this year's election. The continuing refusal of Rockefeller to endorse the man nearly all Republicans considered the party nominee for president disturbed the GOP. It was feared the Rockefeller coolness could cost Nixon votes in New York.

Rockefeller said Tuesday he hoped to take "an active aggressive part" in the election campaign this year but only if the party platform conformed, in basic areas, to the 14-point program drafted last week by himself and Nixon.

Comparison Is

in federal employment and in all activities carried on under government contracts.

The Republican plank pledged creation of a commission on equal job opportunity to continue present federal efforts to end job discrimination on government contracts. It promised legislation to end discriminatory membership practices of some labor union locals, unless such practices are ended by the unions themselves. It pledged also development of a federal-state program to end discrimination in all employment areas.

HOUSING — Democrats promised to take action to end discrimination in federal housing programs. The Republican plank pledged action to prohibit discrimination in housing constructed with aid of federal subsidies.

FEDERAL FACILITIES AND SERVICES — Democrats said the Justice Department should be empowered and directed to file civil injunction suits to prevent discrimination in all areas of community life, such as voting, schools, housing, jobs and public facilities.

The Republican plank promised to end discrimination in federal facilities, to oppose use of federal funds for building segregated community facilities and to insure that public transportation and other government-authorized services are free of segregation.

SIT-IN DEMONSTRATIONS — Democrats said such peaceful affairs are a signal to the nation to make good in guaranteeing civil rights.

The Republican plank reaffirmed the constitutional right to peaceful assembly to protest discrimination in private business establishments, and applauded businessmen who have abandoned discriminatory practices.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEDURE — Democrats said congressional procedure should be improved to permit majority rule.

The Republican plank pledged the party's best efforts to change congressional procedures that often make unattainable proper legislative action in the civil rights field.

GREETINGS FROM THE GOVERNOR'S LADY—Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller, wife of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller (rear), leans over the railing to shake hands with a friend at the Republican National Convention in Chicago. be submitted for the top nomination. The draft didn't blow, and Rockefeller formally stepped aside.

Pleased with the revised planks on national defense and civil rights he had helped Nixon drive through a recalcitrant platform committee, Rockefeller announced he would not permit his name to be offered. If it were offered without his permission he said, he would demand that it be erased from the roll call.

Good Will Gesture
The New York governor personally made the motion by which his state delegation unanimously pledged its 96 votes to the vice president—a gesture of good will the Nixon forces relished because of its possible benefits in carrying New York in November.

Rockefeller's feeling about the platform was shared by Nixon, the vice president said through his press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, that the committee had done "an outstanding job," especially on a civil rights plank.

The plank was strengthened only after all-night work on reluctant delegates by Nixon's aides. This provision, adopted over the protests of Southerners and some Westerners, included a section inveighing against any discrimination by stores against Negro customers.

Some Confuse Terms In Low Priced Issues

Q) "I want to speculate with $1,000. I am not interested in yield, only in growth, and I would like to buy stocks under $5 a share. What do you suggest?" V.T.

A) I suggest that you alter your thinking a little. One of the most common and dangerous delusions I encounter is that very low-priced stocks are necessarily cheap stocks. It is perfectly true that in the earlier stages of this bull market, some large fortunes were made in very low-priced issues. But the bull market has roared on for 11 years, the market has been scoured for values, and there are few if any issues now selling below $5 that are not in that range because their quality is poor and their risk is high. And I beg you not to get speculation confused with growth. Speculation means the deliberate assumption of risk in the hope of attaining substantial profit. When you buy growth, you expect over a period of time a steady advance in price which is achieved by rising earnings and dividends. I know of no good speculation or growth stock in the price range you designate. In fact, my mail is full of requests from worried investors who bought very low-priced stocks within the past year or two, have suffered severe losses, and now wonder what to do about them.

Q) "Last year I invested practically every penny I had in 100 shares of Rayonier. I am thinking of switching to Pfizer Co. What do you advise?" T.S.

A) Rayonier's earnings outlook is poor and Pfizer's is improving. There are unconfirmed reports that the Food & Drug Administration may prohibit the use of folic acid in vitamin complexes. With $100,000,000 worth of such vitamins believed to be in the hands of dealers, Pfizer and other drug makers might be hurt by this action. But the market, in my opinion, has discounted the possibility. I think your proposed switch is sound and I advise you to make it.

Robert Kennedy To Confer With N.Y. Democrats

NEW YORK (AP)—Factions of the state's difference-riddled Democrats lined up anxiously today to get the ear of Sen. John F. Kennedy's brother Robert.

With a canny campaign eye on what he calls an "anchor" state in his race for the presidency, the Massachusetts Senator dispatched his trouble-shooter brother on a two-day mission to canvass the local situation.

Robert's job was plainly to perform a feat of magic—pull a unified state movement out of his hat.

He scheduled a whirlwind round of talks ranging up and down the party spectrum. High on the agenda was how best to set up a Citizens for Kennedy Committee to work with the regular state organization.

The major contact was State Chairman Michael H. Pendergast, who has publicly expressed disfavor of a citizens group.

Sen. Kennedy said Tuesday he would work closely with Pendergast and the state committee. "He is the leader," Kennedy stressed. Pendergast had declared on Monday that he and not Mayor Robert F. Wagner—is in charge of the state organization.

Arriving with Robert Kennedy was Byron (Whizzer) White, former All America football star and now chairman of the National Committee of Citizens for Kennedy.

The Kennedy-White team planned to start their huddles with a visit to Rep. Eugene J. Keogh of Brooklyn, followed by lunch with Pendergast and Tammany Hall Leader Carmine G. DeSapio.

Other stops on tap included a meeting with State Comptroller Arthur Levitt and a talk with a group of insurgent Democrats including Eleanor Roosevelt, former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman and former Air Force Secretary Thomas K. Finletter. Breakfast with Mayor Wagner was on the menu for Thursday.

Other factional differences aside, the Citizens for Kennedy question promised to provide plenty of fire in the inner sanctums.

Court Injunctions
But whereas the Democrats pledge support for new federal power to obtain court injunctions in all fields of possible racial equality violations, the Republicans advocate such power only in school segregation cases.

The GOP civil rights plank omitted specific reference to sit-in demonstrations—a point insisted upon by moderates.

Like the Democrats, the GOP promises to overhaul legislative procedures that in the past have been used to block action on racial equality measures.

She's a Family Woman

Shirley Temple Tells Reason For Picking Special TV Shows

Editor's Note—It takes a special kind of TV show to lure Shirley Temple before the cameras. In this guest column, she explains why, and gives some glimpses of her happy home life.

By SHIRLEY TEMPLE BLACK
Written for The Associated Press

Two years ago when I came out of retirement to do NBC's Storybook series, I was asked a lot of questions about why I decided to come back into the entertainment world. Since I had elected to become a housewife and mother, people asked, then what had tempted me back?

Well, let me say that my reasons then were the same reasons why I am going to be hostess and frequent star of a new TV series this fall on NBC. Of all the offers I have had in the several years since I left Hollywood, these two have been the most appealing in terms of the time I am willing to spare away from my family.

Devoted to Home

Two words in that last sentence are important to me—time and family. I am a family woman. I think back to the years when I was a child and remember that my parents never let my career interfere with the family relationship of my father, my mother, my brothers and myself. And my most rewarding experiences today are the times I am with my husband and my children—and nobody else.

My time is devoted primarily to my husband Charles, and my lively children Susan, Lori and Charley Jr. I happen to enjoy cooking and housework and gardening, but that really has little to do with it. I cook, not because I enjoy cooking, but because I would rather cook than lessen the intimacy of our household.

Keeps Family Closer

People have said to me, "Shirley, you don't need to take care of your own housework—with your money." And my answer to them is "You're right," but also I say "You're wrong," because although we're not poor and we don't have to count costs, we have a stronger family unit because we do the chores together.

I shall probably sound a little platitudinous but I am sincere when I say that in the Family, America has and gets its strength, and I believe it so much that it determines my decisions about everything—including the entertainment world.

And when I decided to do the series for this fall I consulted my family who again voted that if I was not away from home too long then it was alright with them.

And, too, the format of the series itself will be designed for the whole family. It's going to embrace a variety of subjects—musicals, dramas, classic children's stories, adventures in wonderlands of space—and all of them geared for the young at heart.

In these shows I am going to act as weekly hostess and will

One-Room School Closes

LYON MOUNTAIN, N.Y. (AP)—The little, one-room school at nearby Chazy Lake and its teacher, Mrs. Howard King have retired together.

Fewer than 60 one-room school buildings now remain in use in the state.

Locking the door on a 25-year career at the school in the Adirondacks, Mrs. King observed:

"Parents used to be generally interested in the schools. They used to stop by for a visit, just to see how things were going or to observe classwork."

"Now, with all the bustle and hurry of life, there is little time."

BRIDGE

To Sacrifice or Not, Is Problem

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Today's bidding problem concerns South, so look at the South hand only. Your partner opens the bidding with three spades which you play as a preempt. East overcalls with three no-trump. East is vulnerable and you are not. Do you bid four hearts or do you pass? In either case West bids six clubs.

From a result standpoint it turns out that you should bid four hearts and pass six clubs. A heart lead will beat six clubs and any other lead will let West get rid of his losing heart and make the hand.

Conversely, if you don't bid four hearts you should bid six over the six club bid and take the sacrifice. You will be three or four down depending on how the play goes and that is a lot cheaper than letting West make his slam.

From the standpoint of good bridge, I can't criticize either a pass or four heart bid to three no-trump. You don't expect to make four hearts, but you don't anticipate any great loss. On the other hand you just might be able to beat three no-trump assuming East had bid it without a heart stopper. In other words, "You pay yer money and you takes yer choice."

Many Daring Men Dedicated To Safety, Watch Over Falls

(Editors: This AP membership enterprise project story was inspired by the rescue July 9 of seven-year-old Roger Woodward, the first person ever to survive an accidental plunge over the Niagara River cataract. It tells of daring rescues, of patrols to save lives.)

By RICHARD UTTS
Niagara Falls Gazette

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Rugged, daring men dedicated to safety keep watch over the racing upper Niagara River and its awesome, tragic falls.

Fishing boats drift too near the raging rapids. Inexperienced sailors chance the rushing river with motors too feeble. Each year 10 to 15 suicides plunge over the perilous American or Horseshoe (Canadian) Falls.

Thousand Visit

The wonder is that more of the thousands of persons who visit the falls daily are not swept over the cataract.

Roger Woodward, 7, is the only person known to have survived a fall over the 161-foot American falls. His sister, Deanne, 17, was saved on the brink July 9 but the operator of their boat, James Honeycutt, 40, perished.

Three persons encased in padded barrels or balls have survived the treacherous trip. Rescues, largely involving boats with motor failure, are recorded in the logs of a dozen official or unofficial safety agencies, some manned by volunteers.

Police Are Closest

The closest safety units to the falls are the Niagara Park Police in Niagara Falls, Ont., and the Niagara Frontier State Park Police here.

Their equipment can reach trouble spots by land in a few minutes. Their light, portable equipment includes life harnesses and life rings and lines. By radio they can summon private or Army helicopters based only a few miles away.

Life lines and rings are quite ineffectual in the turbulent rapids above the falls. If a victim is lucky enough to be able to cling to a rock or bit of land, a helicopter is the most effective rescue device.

Helicopters have made two daring recoveries in the past decade. Owen A. Niehaus and Joseph A. Cannon went to the aid of a woman clinging to a rock in the cold water on May 5, 1960. The woman had seized a pontoon so violently that the helicopter overturned. A second helicopter saved the woman and two pilots, whose craft was lost.

Clung by Toes
In 1955, two men, driven close to the falls in a stalled boat, clung by their toes to rock crevices until state park police signaled for a helicopter.

Park police cars carry harnesses and lines. Similar equipment is stored at patrol booths along the shore.

The Frontier Park Police commanded by Lt. Joseph Musgrave are trained to face the river dangers. They have had to scale 200-foot embankments to the river below the falls to rescue fishermen stranded on rocks as hydro-electric power plants change the river level. They must recover bodies of suicide victims and rescue exploring boys trapped in the gorge.

Firemen man a Civil Defense amphibious truck fitted with flood lights, grapple hooks and life rings. The CD also has a small rescue boat that can be water-borne in a few minutes. A second duck is being outfitted.

Cruiser Stationed
On the Canadian side, an out-fitted cabin cruiser is stationed at water intakes at Chippewa.

On busy weekends, volunteer deputies of the Niagara County Sheriff's Marine Patrol prow the upper river to help troubled boatmen—at least a dozen each season. The patrol has four cruisers and four outboard motorboats, all donated and manned by volunteers.

Other volunteer agencies are the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and the Niagara Power Squadron. Both are devoted to boating education.

Patrolman William Szabo of the Niagara Falls Bureau of Police patrols the river in his own craft. His job is to arrest violators of safety rules and to help boaters or swimmers. Officers of the Canadian Department of Game and Fisheries also patrol the river.

Are the safety measures adequate? Major Hill, a Canadian who has made four barrel-trips through the rapids—but not over the falls—says "it will take a cabin cruiser full of people going over the falls to make the authorities wake up to the fact that safety measures on the upper river are inadequate."

Hill's family has taken more than 500 suicides from the gorge and has found 17 wrecked small boats in the lower river.

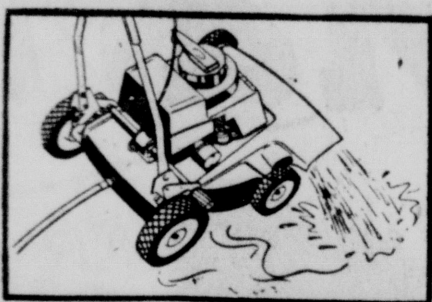

Since young Roger Woodward went over the falls, Hill and William Latham, State Power Authority resident engineer, have proposed that a line of buoys fastened to the bottom or stretched on a steel cable be placed across the river as a danger line and that a patrol boat be stationed near the line.

And since Roger's 100-million-tp one survival in the foaming, rocky gorge, the sale of boat anchors for use when motors fail has soared.

Man Who Is U. S. at U.N.

By RAY CROMLEY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — "Henry Cabot Lodge has been a success at the United Nations if you figure success as slapping back fast and hard at the Russians every time they step out of their corner. And I guess that is what success at the U.N. means these days."

That's the comment of one of Lodge's State Department associates. It's echoed around the Department.

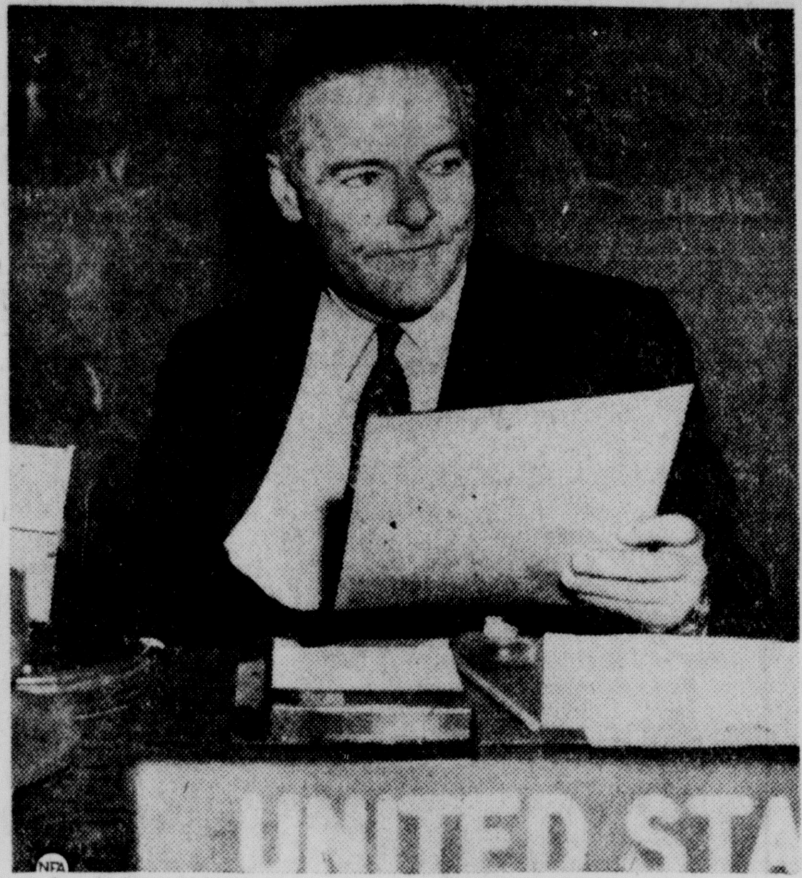

Lodge is known as a man with an educated, clean, mean punch, quick on the trigger, a tough counter-slugger who knows all the tricks when no holds are barred in a fight with the Russians. He's a tough infighter.

He thrives on complicated wrangles. He delights in replying to Soviet charges and adding accusations of his own in a quick counter-move. Lodge holds this is the only way the world will learn about Communist fallacies.

He'll punch and punch away at one point, say, Hungary, when he touches a sore spot. The Lodge theory: this is the only way the Asian, the African and the Middle Easterner will learn what it means to cozy-up to the Russians.

Yet State Department men claim that Lodge is a careful strategist, and not a Don Quixote tilting at windmills. He hates to press for an issue in the U.N. if he doesn't think he has the votes to win. He would rather compromise and wait for another day.

Some of the major arguments he had with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles were on such matters. Dulles would want Lodge to press for a vote on moral grounds. Lodge would hold this was silly on issues on which the U. S. couldn't win, that it would lose its ground in the long run if the world saw us going down to defeat before the Soviet Union on votes in the U.N.

There's still a difference of opinion in the Department over whether Dulles or Lodge was right.

Some diplomats called Lodge practical, some called him compromising, expedient.

Men who work with Lodge in the State Department say he's a lone wolf, that he plays his own game out of his own briefcase. They fret that he tells no one what he is going to do.

"You never know what to expect next from Lodge," says one diplomat. "I'm not sure anyone gets close to him."

He has strong convictions by all accounts. Lodge goes along with the Secretary of State and the State Department when he agrees. Otherwise he argues and if he still disagrees, he goes straight to President Eisenhower. He can do that, being a member of the Cabinet. And sometimes, State Department officials admit wryly, Lodge has proved to be right when you look back at it.

The 58-year-old Lodge is tall, trim, personable. He's a careful dresser. The ladies either like him extravagantly or hate him for being "aloof."

"There's no doubt," says one highly placed State Department official, "that he's a Cabot of the breed about which it was once said, 'the Lowells talk to the Cabots and the Cabots talk only to God.'" He attends official receptions only briefly and drinks little.

Lodge is a man who has shown a capacity for change. He started out in the U. S. Senate as an isolationist, voted against aid to Britain in 1940. But he ended up as an internationalist. He started out voting for the Wagner Labor Relations Act; later, he voted for Taft-Hartley.

His life has been well planned. He grew up in Beacon Hill, Boston, went to Middlesex school. He then was graduated from Harvard in three years. He became a newspaper reporter as a starting point for politics. Then at the age of 30, he won a seat in the Massachusetts State Legislature in a hard-pushing, door-to-door fight.

Lodge is no mean political antagonist. He was first elected U. S. Senator from Massachusetts in 1936 at the age of 34 when he defeated the redoubtable James Curley, former mayor of Boston and governor of Massachusetts. He was re-elected in 1942, but resigned to enter the Army. He was elected Senator again in 1946. Then he was manager of the successful campaign to get Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the Republican nomination in 1952.

But he himself lost that same year in his own bid for re-election. The winner over Lodge by a narrow margin was John F. Kennedy.

Buffalo Police Have New Unit To Check Rackets

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The Buffalo Police Department Tuesday announced the creation of a four-man intelligence unit to keep track of racketeers from Western New York.

It was the second announced change in the department since the State Investigation Commission hearings here. Flimsy intelligence files were cited in charges of incompetence leveled at the department by the commission in the recent public hearings.

Last week Mayor Frank Sedita appointed a 36-year veteran of the force, Inspector Arthur Haun, to head the vice and anti-gambling squads.

Lumumba and Herter Will Confer on Help for Congo

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba arrives today amid full military honors to appeal for emergency U.S. economic and technical help for his crisis-ridden, near-bankrupt government.

Administration leaders arranged to give him a friendly reception plus promises of aid — via the United Nations—in his struggle to keep his 27-day-old republic alive as an independent African nation.

At the start of a hastily arranged two-day visit, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was due to meet the outspoken African leader at the airport at mid-afternoon along with a welcoming Army band and a military honor guard.

Lumumba, who only last week was talking of asking Russian help to oust Belgian troops from the Congo, was to meet officially with Herter and top administration aides later today as a followup to his New York meetings with U.N. officials.

Lumumba's arrival coincided with an appeal from his finance minister back in Leopoldville for money and doctors to help restore essential services in the Congo.

He said that between 8 and 10 million dollars are urgently needed to meet government payrolls in August and to keep the government from collapsing in new riots and disorder.

Top State Department officials, surveying the virtual economic and government paralysis in the Congo, have concluded that far more than this sum will be needed. Thousands of outside technicians, backed by several hundred million dollars in economic assistance, may be required if the U.N. is to succeed in its task, some diplomatic officials said.

Soviet Charges Against U.S. Are Rejected 9 to 2

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Security Council debate on the American RB47 reconnaissance plane shot down by the Soviets ended Tuesday night with a 9-2 council vote rejecting Soviet charges against the United States and a Soviet veto of the U.S. proposal for an international investigation.

The Soviets also vetoed an Italian proposal that the International Red Cross contact the two surviving crewmen of the American plane, who are being held by the Soviets for trial as spies.

Despite the official impasse, U.N. diplomats chalked up the outcome as a defeat for the Soviet Union and a victory for the United States. They pointed out that on all three resolutions the vote was 9-2, with the Soviet Union and Poland opposed by all nine non-Communist members of the council including Ceylon and Tunisia, which usually abstain from voting on cold war disputes.

The vetoes brought the Soviet total to 89 in the council's history.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said the Soviets by blocking an investigation showed "they do not believe their own charge" against the United States. He termed the Italian proposal for the Red Cross to contact the captured fliers a "compassionate resolution."

He told the council: "It is a sad thing when a people as warm hearted as the Soviet people is represented by a government as cold-hearted, brutal, hard and cynical as they showed themselves to be tonight."

The Soviets had charged that the RB47, when shot down by a Soviet jet fighter July 1, was on a spy mission over Soviet territorial waters in the Barents Sea. The Soviet resolution that the council rejected would have condemned the United States for aggressive acts and called on it to cease such activity.

Lodge earlier in the debate said the plane was investigating electromagnetic currents in arctic waters for mapping purposes and that it never came closer than 30 miles to Soviet territory.

Pine Hill Water Company Files Its New Rates

ALBANY—The Public Service Commission has accepted a tariff amendment filed by The Pine Hill Water Company designed to increase rates to the 17 hotels and boarding houses and a school it serves on a metered basis. The new rates will become effective August 1 and will produce about $885 additional revenue.

The company serves 140 customers, mostly on a flat-rate basis, in and near Pine Hill. Changes to flat-rate customers were increased substantially in 1950 and by an additional 10 per cent in 1959 while rates to metered customers have been increased by only 10 per cent since 1931.

Under the new tariff, the metered rate will be 75 cents per 1,000 gallons, subject to a basic monthly minimum of $2.25. This compares with present rates of 55 cents and $1.65 respectively.

In filing its new tariff, the company said it needed additional revenues to offset increased operating costs, due in part to plant changes necessitated by highway construction.

'Trust' Isn't at Stake But Her Welfare Is

The only boys who won't date a teen-age girl because her parents are "strict" are the kind she shouldn't be dating anyhow.

That's my answer to a teen-age reader who thinks her parents don't trust her. They want to know where she is going, insist on meeting her dates, and want her back home no later than twelve o'clock. The girl is fifteen and a sophomore in high school.

She writes: "Most of my friends can do as they please because their parents trust them. Half of the time their parents aren't even home when they have dates and they certainly don't think they have to meet the boy."

"They can come in any time they please, too, because their mothers don't sit up for them and don't know when they get in. Don't you think my parents are old-fashioned and unreasonable?"

No, nor will you, when you are old enough to appreciate their concern for your welfare and to be grateful for the love that prompts them to do what they know is right instead of taking the easy way of letting you do as you please—as some of your friends' parents do.

No decent boy is going to think less of you for such parental concern and supervision. In fact, most of the boys you meet will have more respect for you because your parents obviously cherish you enough to try and protect you.

There's another thing you ought to know: Your parents aren't showing any lack of trust in you by wanting to meet your dates and wanting to know where you are going and by wanting you home at a reasonable hour.

That's their duty as parents—just as it is your duty as their daughter to not only respect their wishes but to try to appreciate their loving concern.

Faubus on Way To Be Governor For Fourth Term

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus was on the high road to an unprecedented fourth term today after a smashing victory over four opponents in Tuesday's Democratic primary.

Faubus, central figure in the Little Rock integration crisis, faces Republican opposition in the November general election, but Arkansas has not elected a GOP governor since Reconstruction days.

Returns from 2,158 of the state's 2,328 precincts showed: Faubus 201,364; Joe C. Hardin of Grady 51,729; Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett 50,708; H.E. Williams 28,205, and Hal Millsap Jr., 8,148.

Incumbents won renomination in both contested congressional races. Rep. Dale Alford of Little Rock got a heavy vote in late returns to beat State Sen. Robert Hays Williams and Rep. Jim Trimble of Berryville trounced Donald Poe of Waldron.

The vote in 174 of 228 precincts in the 5th District showed: Alford 24,200, Williams 19,717. In the 3rd District, 472 of 503 precincts gave Trimble 46,602 and Poe 16,632.

Arkansas' four other congressmen and Sen. John L. McClellan had no opposition. Their names were not on the primary ballot.

Family Service Agency Planned By Area Group

The steering committee of a proposed Family Service Agency for the Kingston area met recently to discuss the needs in the field of family counselling and the possibilities of meeting those needs with such a Family Service Agency.

Among the representatives of the community who were present for the meeting were: Judge Aaron Klein, S. James Matthews, Rev. David C. Gaise, DD, Mrs. Virginia Robeson, Rev. Henry Hansen, Mrs. John Shults, Mrs. John Egbert and Miss Rose Marie Feeney.

Material from the Family Service Association of America was presented and discussed.

There was general agreement that a definite need does exist in the area for the type of marriage and family counselling service that is provided by the Family Service Association. Strong support for the establishment of such services was indicated by the professional personnel at the meeting.

It was concluded that plans should be initiated to inform the community as to the merits of such an agency and that an effort to develop interest in its organization should be started.

Initial committees were formed and another meeting is to be held in September.

'Saugerties' Power Boat Club To Return Visit To Kingston Unit

A Saugerties Power Boat Association flotilla of some 20 to 30 vessels will pay a return visit to Kingston Power Boat Association in a "sail-a-way" planned for Sunday afternoon, Aug. 14.

The Kingston fleet of pleasure crafts sailed up the Hudson June 26 to salute the Saugerties association and visited the new clubhouse facilities on Esopus Creek.

The flotilla will leave the Saugerties club's pier at 11:30 a. m. with arrival at the mouth of Rondout Creek at about 1 p. m. The Saugerties fleet expects to leave about 7 p. m. on the return trip.

Commodore Henry Schaeffer will be the formation commander for the two divisions. One division will include all larger crafts and the other, smaller vessels.

The flotilla will reassemble on arrival at Kingston Lighthouse. Approximately 100 persons are expected to make the trip.

Jaynees to Hear Project Proposal For Local Library

A public service project to enhance the appearance of Saugerties Public Library will be proposed at a special meeting of Saugerties Jaynees to be held Monday, Aug. 1 at Stonewall Hotel, Barclay Heights.

The permanent project would include landscaping of the library grounds, furnishing flowers for indoor decoration, and decorating for special occasions and holidays.

The agenda will also include a proposal to provide transportation of Saugerties children who require treatment at the Cerebral Palsy clinic in Kingston two days a week.

Castro Bids Other Latin Countries Follow Program

LAS MERCEDES, Cuba (AP) — An ailing Fidel Castro offered his revolution as an example to other Latin American countries Tuesday and repeated charges of U.S. aggression against his government.

Obviously not fully recovered from his bout with pneumonia, the Prime Minister looked drawn and haggard as he hoarsely harangued the crowd. He spoke for two hours and 15 minutes and in the end practically stumbled into the arms of his followers behind him.

Instead of a predicted half million, about 200,000 Cubans struggled through rain, heat and muddy roads to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of Castro's revolutionary movement in its birthplace, the Sierra Maestra mountains of eastern Cuba.

Accusing the United States once again of aggression against his regime, Castro said "the principal reason for aggression against our country is to prevent our being an example" to the rest of Latin America.

"We will continue making our fatherland an example that will convert the Andes range into the Sierra Maestra of the continent," he declared.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Women's Society Attend Session

HIGHLAND—Mrs. Troy Cook, the recently elected president of the Women's Society for Christian Service, entertained the officers associated with her at her home, Reservoir Road, Thursday. Mrs. Cook and Miss Ethel Haines, who had attended a seminar at Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, gave a report of the meetings there. A general discussion of plans for the fall work of the church brought out ideas, and those present were urged to attend an officers' training class to be held at Nanuet, September 14.

Attending were Mrs. Robert Cummings, vice president; Mrs. L. Wayne Dunlap, spiritual life secretary; Mrs. Harold Dietz, child guidance chairman; Miss Haines, secretary mission work; Mrs. Gordon E. Wilcox, student activities; Mrs. U. P. Two Sullivan Men Drown While Fishing

MONTICELLO, N. Y. (AP)—Two Sullivan County men drowned Tuesday night while fishing on Schillings Pond seven miles west of here, State Police reported today.

The police identified the men as William King of Monticello and Peter Sullivan of Forestburg, both about 50.

Police said the families of the two men became alarmed at daylight with their failure to return. The families notified police who went to the fishing scene.

There, police said, they saw an overturned boat. Obtaining another boat, they rowed out on the pond and found the two bodies floating.

FISCHETTI IN CHICAGO:

Five Are Indicted In School Payroll Padding Scheme

NEW YORK (AP)—Five former Board of Education employees have been indicted in a payroll-padding scheme netting $19,907 over a four-year period.

Authorities said the leader, Francis J. Brennan, spent the money on medical bills for his invalid wife, with the others helping out of sympathy.

All five pleaded innocent to larceny and forgery charges before Kings County Judge John R. Starkey Tuesday. No trial date was set.

Brennan, 61, retired last January as director of the board's Bureau of Community Recreation and Education after school officials said he admitted taking the money. He had been with the school system for 27 years.

His wife, Madeline, was paralyzed from a stroke.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Benjamin Specter said Brennan falsely listed persons on the payroll for teaching classes which, in reality, they never attended.

Brennan earned a salary of $15,250 a year and reportedly has made restitution of $17,000. Specter said Brennan told his superiors he was forced to get extra money to meet medical costs for his stricken wife. Indicted with him were Helen Brennan, 58, his sister, a retired school teacher; Ralph Macaluso, 54, and his wife, Annette, 39, school dance instructors from Queens; and Gerald Klot, 53, of the Bronx, a former supervisor of the Bureau of Community Education.

Specter said Miss Brennan and the Macaluses were falsely listed as assigned to night classes in Bronx schools. Klot was accused of approving payroll vouchers presented for his signature by Brennan.

Klot was released in the custody of his lawyer. The others were released in bail.

ALGIERS, Morocco (AP)—Several thousand French troops have launched a new offensive against the Algerian rebels in the Ouargenis region southwest of Algiers.

4 Negroes Held, One Shot, for Part in Assault

CHICAGO (AP)—A gang of Negro youths assaulted two white men with baseball bats, raped their pregnant wives, and knifed another youth Tuesday night in Lincoln Park.

Police felled one gang member with a bullet in his neck and seized the other four within a mile of the park, which fronts Lake Michigan on the North Side.

The five youths—one 18 years old, three 16 and one 15—admitted taking part in the assaults, police said.

The victims required hospital treatment.

Police said the gang first assaulted and robbed Roy Helmut, 18, as he walked alone in the park about 10 o'clock Tuesday night. Helmut was stabbed twice in the back, but his wounds were

Derailed Freight Blocks New York Central Line

CLEVELAND (AP)—A freight train derailment blocked the main line of the New York Central Railroad early today near the Ohio-Pennsylvania line.

Twenty-four cars of a 90-car eastbound freight went off the rails at Lake City, Pa. The train was en route from Chicago to New York.

Traffic was detoured to the tracks of the Nickel Plate Road between Conneaut, Ohio, and Harbor Creek, Pa.

A New York Central spokesman said it was hoped one of the two main tracks could be restored to service by this evening.

The cause of the accident was not learned immediately.

Fisher - Hornbeck Wedding Is Announced; Couple Exchange Vows Before Nuptial Mass

Before a Nuptial Mass at St. Joseph's Church, this city, on Saturday, July 23, Miss Maureen Ann Fisher exchanged vows with Robert Hornbeck. Officiating during the double ring ceremony and celebrant of the Mass was the Rev. James V. Keating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Fisher of 80 Prospect Street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hornbeck of 50 Elizabeth Street.

Mrs. Frank Rafferty was organist for the occasion. Soloist, Miss Veronica Chmura, sang "Mother Beloved," Panis Angelicus, and Oh, Lord I Am Not Worthy.

White gladioli decorated the church and the pews were marked with white satin ribbon. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of silk organza fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists and a circlet neckline. The bouffant skirt swept back into a chapel length circular train. The bodice and skirt were enhanced with appliques. Aloncon lace re-embroidered with tiny seed pearls. A crown of orange blossoms and pearls secured the fingertip French illusion veil. The bride carried a cascade of white glamelias centered with two lavender orchids and ivy streamers.

Two maids of honor served the bride. They were Miss Elizabeth J. Taylor of 19 Emerson Street, and Miss Mary Swint of 18 St. Mary's Street. Their gowns were pale rose and pink organza styled with shirred bodices, abbreviated sleeves and circlet necklines. Their full skirts were waltz length and they also wore matching crowns with circular tulle veils. Both carried crescent bouquets of orchid glamelias with lemon leaves.

The bridegroom's best man was Joseph Swint of Kingston. Serving as ushers were William Wells and David Brooks, both of Kingston.

A reception was given at The Tropical Inn, Port Ewen. The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and attended Albany State College of Education where she was a member of Beta Zeta Sorority. She was employed by Van Valkenburgh-FitzGerald Inc.

The bridegroom was graduated from Kingston High School and served in the U. S. Air Force for four years. He is employed by Western Printing in Poughkeepsie.

For her wedding trip to Cape Cod, Mass., the bride chose to wear a pink linen dress with embroidered daisies and white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Hornbeck plan to reside on Washington Avenue, this city, when they return.

Georgia Hoffay Betrothed
Mr. and Mrs. George S. Bailey of 84½ Downs Street, this city, announced their daughter's engagement in The Freeman on Tuesday. She is Georgia Carole Hoffay, betrothed to Lawrence Bechtold.

Bechtold, according to information received by The Freeman this morning, is the son of Frederick Bechtold of 56 Marys Avenue, and Mrs. Dorothy McElrath of Wiltwyck Avenue. No date has been set for the wedding.

At the Markets

Meats and Poultry—Two variety meats simple to serve for summer meals are liver and tongue. Both offer high food value at low cost. Beef liver retails generally at 69 cents a pound or 14 cents a serving and tongue at 59 cents a pound or 20 cents a serving, according to New York City Department of Markets prices for the week ended July 14, 1960.

Lamb prices have probably reached their peak for the year. Prices should start their usual seasonal decline in August—watch for specials.

Broilers are in heavy supply, about 10 per cent above a year ago at this time. While likely featured for the coming weeks, broilers may be slightly higher prices than last summer.

Vegetables—Summertime and the picking among vegetables is easy, because there is a long list heavy in supply and low in price. Included on the list are: snap beans, beets, cabbage, corn, Eastern potatoes, and green and yellow squash. Top salad choices include all types of lettuce, escarole, endive, watercress, green peppers, and cucumbers. Other additions to the salad might be carrots, Pascal celery, onions, spinach, and tomatoes.

Fruits—Peaches and blueberries are key choices for summer fruit cup—quality is high and prices are seasonally low. To prevent peach slices from discoloring, squeeze fresh lime juice over them. Limes are also plentiful and reasonably priced. Now is also the time to enjoy nectarines and plums and watermelon and cantaloupe. Try some of the tart summer apples — Stars and Lodis — for apple sauce and pie.

Fish and Shellfish — Lending choices among the fresh salt water fish for the next few weeks are butterfish, scup, whiting, flounder, fluke, yellowtail, and mackerel.

Shellfish treats include hard and soft clams, lobsters, shrimp, and squid. Frozen scallops, extremely heavy in supply, lend themselves to a wide variety of interesting dishes.

YMCA News

A group of boys from the YMCA recently held an outing at Baird State Park under the supervision of Frank Rebollo, youth director, who was assisted by the Parents Volunteer committee.

Assisting were, Esther Bodie, Vivian Bodie, Dorothy Kelly, Rebecca Palen, Mary Berryann and Beatrice Atkins, members of the committee.

The boys enjoyed swimming, archery and softball. The next trip scheduled will be to Western Printing and Lithographing Co. plant in Poughkeepsie, followed by a swim at the Poughkeepsie municipal pool on August 6.

On Thursday, July 28, Olympic Day for all "Y" boys eight to 12 years will be held. On Saturday, July 30, the YMCA softball league will play its fourth scheduled game at the athletic field.

A craft day program is scheduled at the YMCA on Monday, August 1, followed by a swim for all boys eight to 16 years, who are invited to participate in the program.

A DUTCH TREAT BACHELOR DINNER

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother has been asked to be the best man at a friend's wedding. He would like to give a bachelor party for the bridegroom in a private room of a very nice restaurant here in town. He wants to make it a "Dutch Treat" dinner. That is, he is planning to ask all the men invited to contribute ten dollars. Part of this money is to go toward the payment of the dinner and the remainder is to go toward a purse for the bridegroom. I told him that I didn't think it was proper for him to invite these men to a party and then ask them to pay for their own dinners, and that if he gave the party it was up to him to pay for it. He thinks it is perfectly all right to do as he suggests as he cannot afford to give the party alone. Please give me your opinion of this as I don't want him to be criticized later for having done the wrong thing.

Answer: If the men that are invited agree to the "Dutch Treat" dinner and to the amount each is to contribute, no one will criticize your brother for having organized it. Any money left over should be used to buy a present for the bridegroom and not given to him as a purse.

Special Rules for the Crippled

Dear Mrs. Post: I am badly crippled with arthritis and it is very difficult for me to get up. When a woman is presented to me, would I be considered very rude if I did not rise?

Answer: You need do no more than start to get up and then if the woman doesn't sense your difficulty and say, "Oh please don't get up," you may quite properly say with a smile, "I'm very sorry, but getting up is so difficult for me."

Tipping the Bartender

Dear Mrs. Post: When a group of women go out to dinner and they have one drink at the bar while waiting for a table, is a tip to the bartender in order?

Answer: Yes.

IBM to Build Office at Armonk For 2 Divisions

WHITE PLAINS — International Business Machines Corporation will build a headquarters office building for two of its divisions, General Products and Data Systems, in Armonk, Town of North Castle, some six miles northeast of White Plains.

Ground breaking is expected to begin next spring and the two divisions hope to occupy their new quarters in mid-1963.

The building will be low and contemporary in design with offices, an employee recreation room, cafeteria, library and an electronic data processing center. It will contain about 250,000 square feet of space. Including roads and parking lot, the installation will occupy less than three per cent of a 440 acre tract, Wengert Farms, which IBM bought in 1956.

Grounds surrounding the new office will be landscaped. The rest of the land will remain in orchards and woodlands.

Both the General Products Division and the Data Systems Division, now share headquarters office space with a third IBM division, Data Processing, at 112 East Road in White Plains. The two divisions will move about 700 of their headquarters personnel to Armonk. The Data Processing Division will, it is expected, absorb most of the space vacated in White Plains.

Irish Night at Woodstock

The Paul Shyre adaptation of Sean O'Casey's PICTURES IN THE HALLWAY opened Tuesday night at the Woodstock Playhouse with actors Gaye Glaeser, Jerry Weiss, Jane Lloyd-Jones, David Gale, Herman O. Arbeit and the artistic director, Arnold Tager as narrator.

Judging solely from the script it isn't difficult to see why Sean O'Casey is considered to be one of today's leading writers. His work is witty, humorous, and touches upon the sensitivities of the Irish people.

Armed with an Irish brogue the actors chose to sit upon tall stools, with their scripts before them, each being spotlighted whenever his or her lines were to be given. It is a style of reading for which Charles Laughton, the famous actor, is known. It is also a style of presentation which only truly gifted dramatists attempt.

Many last night were thoroughly enjoying the presentation but for myself, after having expected something entirely different, I was a little disappointed. But if you like dramatic readings you will most certainly want to see PICTURES IN THE HALLWAY.

I was interested to note a large group of children from a nearby camp in the audience. Their behavior was laudable and they, too, seemed to be enjoying the play.

M. Edgar Rosenblum, executive director of the Playhouse, told me during intermission that some of the Irish educators now at State University College of Education at New Paltz are planning to see the play some time this week.

Roosevelt Play Next

The Woodstock Playhouse will give "Sunrise at Campobello" next week, the famous long-run New York stage hit about Franklin D. Roosevelt's fight to overcome the results of infantile paralysis. Ralph Bellamy was seen in this part on Broadway. The play by Dore Schary will be given for six performances, through August 7, with the central character complete with the jaunty cigarette holder, the stuck-out chin, the wheelchair, the braces, the pince-nez and the ready humor that characterized F.D.R. both as the forty-ish man represented in the play, and as the President he became 11 years later.

I haven't the slightest idea how this play will be cast but my vote would be for Arnold Tager in the role of F.D.R.

"Sunrise at Campobello" is a saga of spectacular determination — the determination of a man not to let the accident of a "ridiculous child's disease" put an end to his career.

Paris Designer Shortens Skirts, Drops Waistline

PARIS (AP) — Designer Yves Saint Laurent of Dior dropped a fashion bomb today by chopping skirts off short enough to show the kneecap and dropping the waistline nearly to the bottom of the hips.

Busts were flattened and waists swallowed up.

For your vacation — for every day . . .

look younger, prettier. Let us create a new hair-do for you.

CURLETTE BEAUTY SALON

Closed Mondays

The line was basically a sack, or chemise, with a low-slung bag tacked on at the bottom.

Jackets, too, were dropped drastically to the bottom of the hip, where gathered-on melon skirts took over. Skirts were moderately tucked in at the hem, which usually hit mid-knee level.

Saint Laurent did not baptize his new shape with a name, but it looked a bit like a bomb or elongated melon. It always hung on a long, slack midgy top.

The flapper era influence is strong, but to complicate matters there is an African theme in hats shaped like native huts or ant-hills, and barbaric costume jewelry. Colors are dark for day—brown, black, prune and steel gray; with gold and silver lames, beading and bright shades for evening.

A folksy or down-to-earth touch comes in with knit toboggan caps topped with a wool pom-pom. That they are teamed up with mink and sable does not seem to matter. Several luxurious fur coats have rib-knit sleeves and the knit turtle neck, rolled over into almost a horse collar.

For cocktail and evening there are outright sacks—whatever they may choose to call them this time — and floor-length tents, sometimes dragging yards of mink hem along the floor.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Self-Sacrifice Is Pitfall Dug by Many Parents

Dr. T was the respected physician in a farming community that could not afford big medical fees. Because he loved his work, his modest earnings didn't matter to him.

Then, as his children grew, his wife, an alumna of a girls' exclusive prep school began to worry about their education. When her old school accepted their daughter, Dr. T made his decision.

Giving up his medical practice, he took an administrative position in a big city insurance corporation that guaranteed him an impressive income and other financial advantages.

His children are delightful young people. But when they come home on vacation from their expensive prep schools and colleges, you cannot help noticing a certain impatience in their attitude toward their father.

Though in his early 50s, he has developed the old man's habit of boastful reminiscence.

To his children and any friends they bring home he'll say:

"That reminds me of the time I removed an appendix by candlelight. There'd been a big blizzard and all the lines were down. Wonderful woman, Mrs. Regan."

"When her boy regained consciousness, she kissed my hand before I could stop her. She still writes to me. Jimmy's got his own garage now, she says . . ."

As the delightful children have heard the tale of Jimmy Regan's appendix a thousand times, they no longer even pretend to listen to it respectfully. And Dr. T, suddenly growing silent, will excuse himself and leave the room.

This is sad and inevitable. For when we deny ourselves what we need for children, we can't help becoming dependent on their appreciation of our sacrifices. Like Dr. T we can't help becoming bored.

As old people will try to fill the emptiness of their present lives by glorifying their past ones, so the self-sacrificing parent always lives in the past.

Having denied his own sense of worth, he must beg his children to restore it to him by continually reminding them of how good he was, how much he gave up for them and how everyone thought he was wonderful.

In these reminiscences of past virtue he appeals for the appreciation that he was unable to give to himself.

He never gets it, of course. The children's important feeling is:

"If you were so wonderful, why do you have to talk about it all the time? Why can't we change the subject?"

Rosendale Block Party

If it rains tonight, the block party scheduled by the Rosendale Chamber of Commerce on James Street in the village will be held Thursday, it was announced this morning. Music for the event to take place between Brown Avenue and South Street will be furnished by musicians from Local 215 through the courtesy of the American Federation of Musicians transcription fund.

Brave Bank Teller

MONTREAL (AP) — A man pointed a pistol through a teller's window in a branch of the Bank of Montreal Tuesday and demanded large bills. Marilyn Marshall, the teller, stuck her ballpoint pen into the muzzle. The bandit ran from the bank and disappeared.

Engaged to Wed William J. Stokes

ROSALIE ANN DAVIDE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davide of 165 Abel Street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rosalie Ann, to William Joseph Stokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Stokes of 116 Hunter Street, this city.

Miss Davide was graduated from Kingston High School and is now employed in the business office of the Kingston Board of Education. Her fiancé attended Kingston High School and is employed by Ideal Homes, Island Dock Lumber Company.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Refund Is Brief

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—William Ross had time to buy just one drink after cashing a $244 federal income tax refund check before three men seized him, took a wallet containing the money and fled.

KILLERS OF CHILDREN

Diphtheria... mastoiditis... scarlet fever... pneumonia! These were some of the big diseases — the big killers of children — a quarter-century ago. But today, we rarely hear of anyone dying from one of these diseases. The explanation? These diseases have been conquered by new drugs — drugs that were unknown 25 years ago — but are now found in every drug store.

Dale Stafford Weds John R. Short Jr. In Double Ring Ceremony at St. Joseph's

Dale Patricia Stafford, daughter of Mrs. C. Kendall Vogt of Hurley Heights, exchanged nuptial vows with John Robert Short Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs.

John Robert Short Sr., Port Ewen, in a double ring ceremony at St. Joseph's Church on Saturday, July 23 at 2 p. m.

Officiating was the Rev. James V. Keating, Mrs. Frank W. Rafferty was the organist. Selections included Ave Maria, Mother At Thy Feet Is Kneeling, and Mother Beloved.

The bride was escorted to the altar by C. Kendall Vogt. For the occasion, the altar was decorated with white gaudioli and the pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

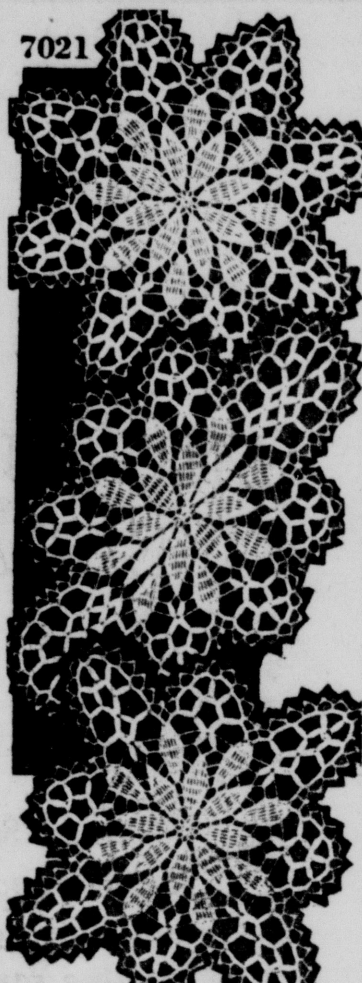

The bride wore a white embroidered silk organza gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, circlet neckline and bracelet length lantern sleeves. Her bouffant skirt was ballerina length. A petal hat of organza with pearl coronet held a chapel length veil.

The bride was attended by Miss Elaine Fay Schryver of 74 Abryn Street, this city. As maid of honor Miss Schryver wore a gown styled identically to that of the bride's except in ballet blue. A circlet of applied roses held a circular tulle flirtation veil.

Michael Thomas Amato of 69 Gill Street, this city, was the bridegroom's best man. Ushering were Richard Michael Amato of 34 Andrew Street, and John Richard Kelly of 65 Howland Avenue.

Members of the immediate families were entertained at a

Eisenhower Puts Life Into Rather Dry GOP Session

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes of a TV convention watcher—

The Republicans brought up their No. 1 star Tuesday night with President Eisenhower dealing the nominating convention a speech that set the partisan pot boiling.

Until the President took stage center, there was little to keep the home viewer glued to the set. It had been an interesting but not particularly vital show. The networks did what they could to stir excitement over the civil rights plank of the platform, the liberal-conservative positions and the vice-presidential choice.

But, as with the Democratic meet, the inevitability of the presidential nomination robbed the convention of its drama and may be the reason for mediocre TV ratings. Americans love a good fight, but respond coolly to political rites.

United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge got the all-time best exposure of any vice presidential possibility. His casting of the Soviets in the Security Council was featured amidst the convention coverage.

Sen. Everett Dirksen wins the nod for the best non-promoted speaker since Democratic key-note Frank Church. Like Church, Dirksen spoke fluently without a glance at notes.

Mark Hatfield, who nominates Richard Nixon for president tonight, is the Republicans' answer to the handsome juveniles of the opposition. In an interview with CBS' Charles Collingwood, the Oregon governor looked as handsome as a TV gunslinger.

ABC seems to be the most steadfast with sticking to the speakers on the podium through thick and thin. NBC appears to wander the most.

Too much talk is beginning to show on some of the TV commentators. Edward R. Murrow admitted referring to the Republican toppers as "Noxon and Eickefeiler."

Dewey Claims He Won't Have Place If Nixon Elected

CHICAGO (AP)—Former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said Tuesday night there is no likelihood whatsoever he would have a place in a Nixon administration if the Republicans win the November election.

Dewey made the statement to newsmen after talking for about an hour with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Nixon's suite. "I retired from public life six years ago and I meant it," the New Yorker declared.

Dewey said Nixon wanted to discuss some political matters with him, but declined to reveal anything about them.

Dewey did say he would campaign this fall for the GOP ticket. He also disclosed that he had been invited to attend the meeting tonight which Nixon plans to hold on the vice presidential nomination.

341 Is His Number

BANGOR, Maine (AP)—There's something symbolic in the assignment of M. Sgt. Albert E. Martel to the 341st Air Refueling Squadron at Dow Air Force Base.

As a radioman-gunner in World War II, he fled from England in a B17 bomber that was number 341. It was hit by flak on a mission, but managed to land. The crew dug out the shell remnant and found it bore the number 341.

REAL HERO, REEL HERO—Eric Erickson, left, counterspy for the Allies in World War II, poses with reel-life counterpart William Holden on location in Germany. "The Counterfeit Traitor," filmed story of the American-born, Swedish-naturalized Erickson will have many locales before it is completed.

CLINTONDALE NEWS

CLINTONDALE — Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Stiller and Mrs. Hattie Elliott, Main Street, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roe and daughter of Binghamton at their home last week from Wednesday to Sunday. Mrs. Roe is Mrs. Elliott's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Bennett and family have been spending a vacation in Kentucky and other southern states.

Among those from here making the Home Demonstration sponsored trip to Old Sturbridge, Mass., last week were Mrs. Minnie Stiller and granddaughters, Mrs. Joseph Moore and children and Mrs. Gershon Mount.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorn of Main Street have been visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Thorn who now live at Harrisburg, Va.

Richard Terpening, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Terpening has been spending a week at the Ulster County 4-H Camp near Plutarch.

John Jacobs is enjoying a vacation from his duties at IBM. Mr. and Mrs. Karl Murphy have returned to their home after spending a vacation at a resort at Cape May, N. J.

Bernadette Brennie, Dale Brennie and Virginia Huels, all of this place have been at the county 4-H camp at Plutarch.

Mrs. Verna Thorn and Mrs. Elsie Morse will be the assisting hostesses for the meeting of the Past Noble Grands Club on Monday, August 15.

Linda and Susanne Stiller of Endicott have been visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Stiller.

Allied Communities fire department will take part in the twenty-fifth annual parade of the Ulster County Volunteer

Hurley Officials Adopt Ordinance

After a public hearing conducted Monday at the West Hurley Fire Hall, the Town Board of Hurley approved a new ordinance regulating dumping in the township. There were no objections.

New hours were set for the new dump location on the Dug Hill Road as follows: Monday through Saturday 4 p. m. to 7 p. m. Additional hours from 10 a. m. until 12 noon on Saturdays were approved in the ordinance as an added convenience for town residents.

The dump will be closed Sunday and daily through the week to all non-residents of the town.

Costello Upsets Highly Rated Opponent in Second Round

KHS Star Defeats Lyons In State Junior, 1 Up

William (Buzzy) Costello of Wiltwyck Country Club achieved a major upset by knocking off highly regarded Denny Lyons of Jamestown, 1 up, in the second round of the New York State Golf Association Junior Division championships at Elmira Country Club.

The Kingston High School ace was scheduled to meet another upset star, John Johnson of West Seneca, in a quarter final match today. Johnson perpetrated the first major reversal of the tournament with a first round 3 and 1 victory over Tom Luddy, pre-tournament favorite from White Plains. Luddy is the metropolitan district junior champion.

Costello's junior division upset of Lyons came on the 17th hole when he canned an 8-foot putt for a par on the 448-yard hole. Lyons was short with a chip shot from the trap and he took a bogey five. They halved the 18th hole with bogie 5's. Costello defeated Jeff Matthews of Old Bethpage, 4 and 2, in his first round match.

Father Is Pro

Lyons is the son of Moonbrook Country Club professional, Toby Lyons, who is winter pro at Sunset Country Club in St. Petersburg, Fla., winter base for Tony and Wiggie deLisio of Woodstock. Young Lyons was Jamestown district medalist in the qualifying round for the New York State Amateur championship. Costello led the Junior qualifying round at Dutchess Golf and Country Club.

The Junior division is for boys 14 through 17.

In the boys division, for youngsters 12 through 14, four survivors of Tuesday's twin 18-hole elimination rounds moved into the semi-final.

They were headed by Dick Prior of Larchmont, who turned in a two-under-par 34 on Elmira Country Club's front nine in his 9 and 7 first round victory over Fritz Gambetta of New Hartford. Prior then downed Denis Chagnon of Loudonville, 7 and 6.

Prior was paired today with Peter Roby of Rochester. Roby took Bob Stauderman of Poughkeepsie, 4 and 3, and Ronnie Philo of Scotia, 7 and 5.

The other semifinal pair is Don Feldman of Burnt Hills and John Morelli of Farmingdale. Feldman beat Mike Tucker of West Islip, 1 up, and Wayne Grobb of Buffalo, 3 and 1. Morelli ousted Pete Lepir of Cheektowaga, 6 and 5, and Chris Siegler of Elmsford, 2 and 1.

Snead in Squabble With PGA Body

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sam Snead, an aristocrat of the golfing circuit from the West Virginia hills, found himself involved today in a big-city squabble.

The 48-year-old slammer, a former Eastern Open winner, ruffled tournament officials by announcing he plans to skip the 11th annual event starting at the Pine Ridge course Thursday.

Two other top-name players and former winners here, Arnold Palmer and Art Wall Jr., joined Snead in by-passing the Eastern. All three have scheduled exhibitions in nearby Pennsylvania and Virginia while the tournament is in progress.

Snead calmly drawled: "I don't know why they're objecting to a match in Philadelphia. How many Eastern Open spectators do they expect to have from Philadelphia?"

Irv Kovens, general chairman of the tourney, has opposed the exhibitions scheduled by the missing stars and contended the next move, if any, is up to the Professional Golfers Assn.

But PGA Tourney Director Ed Carter is reported angry with the Eastern Open Committee for allowing Snead to play in today's pro-am event. It was felt this ruined any case against the players skipping the regular tournament.

District Golf Group Will Be Formed Tonight

The Catskill Mountain District Golf Association, embracing five clubs in Ulster and Greene Counties, will be formally organized at a dinner meeting tonight at Wiltwyck Country Club.

Representatives will attend from The Twaalfskill Club, Wiltwyck Country Club, Woodstock Country Club, Rip Van Winkle of Palenville and Shawangunk of Ellenville.

A 15-man board of directors will be named, along with line officers.

B. Beckert Rolls 606

Bill Beckert, who generally basks in the reflected glory of his wife's bowling accomplishments, struck out on his own in the Summer League at the Bowlerama. He put together games of 193, 220 and 193 for a league leading 606 effort.

Runnerup Paul Menninger shot 232-603. Shooters in the 500 class were: Ed Ashdown 509, Bob Enright 501, George Magley 210-562, Herm Schwarz 214-548, Pat O'Connor 501, Ken Joseph 209-215-567, Don Skilling 232, Al Haines 208, Joe Bruno 507, Ralph Mayone 523, Jack Niles 520, Norm Niles 518, Lloyd Faurete 540, Walt McClure 211-542, Charles Smith 506, Hank Garner 520, Buster Rice 216-579.

Ashburn Hoping to Capture Another NL Batting Crown

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Richie Ashburn, 33, thinks a .333 percentage may be good enough to win the National League batting crown this season and that he has a chance to grab it.

"But I'm still 20 points or so behind Willie Mays (of San Francisco) and Norm Larker (Los Angeles)—and that Mays, especially, is steady enough to keep up the pace," said the Chicago Cubs outfielder, one of the majors' best lead-off men.

Ashburn, who wound up 12 seasons with the Philadelphia Phils last year with his poorest showing, .266, now is hitting .321. Through last year he had a career average of .311, winning the title in 1958 with .350 and 1955 with .338.

"It's complete mystery to me what happened last year when I dropped to .266," said the broad-shouldered buster.

Ashburn was asked if he thought he would hit better with a first-division club.

"I don't think there would be much difference," he said.

"I will say that being with a winning team is a lot more fun. It makes you feel better, eat better and sleep better. But no matter what club I would be with, I would be out there trying my best to get a hit or get on base somehow. Anyone likes to take pride in his work."

Major Outdoor Event

Wrestling Show Slated At Stadium August 17

Starr and Perez In Main Bout

Babe Ruth League Will Share in Promotion

Plans for the first outdoor wrestling show in Kingston in many years were announced today by Promoter Ed Ceccolini of White Plains.

The five-bout extravaganza which is scheduled Wednesday, Aug. 17, at Dietz Stadium at 9 p. m. promises to be one of the most sensational cards ever seen here. There will be five bouts, including two tag-team features.

The main event pairs Ricki Starr and Miguel Perez against the powerful combination of Dr. Jerry Graham and Pompero Firpo.

The Babe Ruth League of Kingston will share in the promotion, Ceccolini said. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the league.

The Bavarian Boys, who scored a gold hit here a few weeks ago, will take on Chet Wallick and Pat Kelly in the second tag team affair.

The three single bouts are: Bruno Sammartino vs. The Great Antonio, Jose Romero vs. Waldo Eric, Tony Marino vs. Fritz Mueller.

Fourteen on Card

The 14 wrestlers on the card, by far the largest number ever to appear in one show in Kingston, are among the most popular performers of the day.

Ricki Starr earned great fame as a solo artist with his clever ballet routines and the ceremonial attendant with all his matches. Perez, of course, has teamed with Rocca against a series of opponents in spectacular matches that several times attracted turn away crowds at Madison Square Garden.

The semi-final event between Bruno Sammartino and The Great Antonio could easily steal the show. Sammartino is one of the top young stars in the game, a TV sensation with a large following on Channel 5.

Dr. Jerry Graham, master of the mystery grips, is another former solo artist and a crowd villain of the first water. Firpo is among the new crop of wrestling stars.

Babe Ruth League officials are highly pleased with the arrangements offered them by Ceccolini and are already selling tickets. They are planning to help make this the biggest wrestling night in Kingston's history.

Jim Farley in First Visit To Monticello RW Tonight

Monticello Raceway will take on the atmosphere of a postmasters' convention Wednesday night when the Hudson Valley's leading mailmen and their guests invade the premises for the Pony Express Centennial pacing feature.

The Postmasters will arrive early for dinner and then sit back and enjoy the races for the rest of the evening.

The highlight, however, will be the Pony Express Pace in the seventh race.

Eight Class B pacers will be in the starting field with drivers competing for the lion's share of the $1,300 purse. A victory will be worth $650 to the winning owner and driver.

James A. Farley, former Postmaster General of the U. S. from 1933 to 1940, will step onto the track and make the presentation to the winning driver after the feature race.

It will be Farley's first visit to the Catskill Mountain track since he was appointed by Governor Rockefeller to a spot on the New York State Harness Racing Commission.

Commission chairman Robert B. Glasser paid the raceway an official visit the first week the track opened in mid-June.

Darling Express, with Sacher Werner driving, will be the probable morning line favorite for the Pony Express Pace against such strong opposition as H. G. Creed, Lauderdale Lad, Violet York, Sporan, Lucille Brewer, Red Argot, and Fireman.

Kingston Jaycees Advance in District 16 LL Tournament

If you suspect that the legal hassles between the National and American Football Leagues (having to do with Cannon, Flowers and Robinson) were something, wait till next fall . . . when they start going after the '60 college crop . . . both leagues made it clear they're going to keep signing kids under cover as soon as they draft them and before their college eligibility in Bowl games is up . . .

The situation is serious enough for Wellington Mara of the New York Giants to suggest (seriously, too) to Commissioner Pete Rozelle that the NFL huddle with the NCAA's Walt Byers about formulating a possible letter of intent . . . so the kids won't professionalize themselves right away . . .

Willie Mays can't help himself in San Francisco by the glowing way he talks about preferring to be around New York: "If I didn't like this place more, I'd never move back." . . . referring to his purchase of a home in Westchester . . . Incidentally, Willie doesn't think Candlestick Park is always unfriendly to right-hand hitters. . . . "Sometimes," he says, "just before 9 o'clock at night, the wind shifts toward left field to favor a right-hand hitter like me. Early in the season I tried hitting everything to right field and messed myself up, so now I hit straight away."

Willie Mays

The one concession Mays makes to the prevailing winds is in the field . . . he plays every hitter to the right of second base.

Biggest puzzle in baseball: Why does Charley Dressen of the Braves stay with rookie Ron Piche as his clutch reliever in the face of repeated wallpings? . . . Next biggest puzzle: The continuing incredulity that Horace Stoneham could have made Tom Sheehan manager pro tem of the Giants . . .

Wasn't Jimmy Piersall left off the All-Star roster of the American League at the request of Cleveland skipper Joe Gordon? . . .

The Cardinals have already gotten around the problem of what to call Hooten Hovvair (Julian Javier), recruit second baseman . . . he's "Cavaliar." . . . Kenny Boyer was raving about the potential of Javier. "He has amazing body control around second base, and it looks like he'll learn to hit."

Bud Grant, the former Minnesota and Philadelphia end and now highly successful mentor of Winnipeg's Canadian League champions, has been tabbed coach of Minneapolis' National Football League entrant when it begins operations in '61 . . .

The American Football League gambled in corraling venerable professionals . . . like Frank Wydo, the old (35) tackle of the Eagles who got a $14,000 non-release contract from the Boston Patriots even with his bad knee . . . with the same kind of risk involved in signing men like Ray Collins and Bill Svoboda (Dallas), Ron Waller and Howie Ferguson (Los Angeles) . . . all their careers injury-shortened by bad legs . . .

Roger Maris professes to be a small town boy who likes his home in Missouri and tolerates New York only for the baseball he has to play there . . . but the country cousin manages not to look out of place dining in swank spots like the Harwin . . .

Mention the relief pitching problem of the Braves to Eddie Mathews, and he shakes it off, "We'll win anyhow—without relief pitchers." . . . Red Schoendienst has had it as an every day regular in the majors . . . The television sponsor may have as much to say as the players about whether there'll be a second All-Star Game next year . . .

Between you'n me, the National Football League says it could have sold a package TV deal this year if it hadn't been scared off by the Justice Department . . . and wonders how the new American League managed to turn around and sell one . . .

Indianapolis Clowns Last Of the Great Negro Teams

The fabulous Indianapolis Clowns, who meet the New York Royals at Dietz Stadium Saturday night, are the last of the truly great Negro traveling teams.

Their already solidly established reputation was given another boost recently with the announcement they will play in the annual Hall of Fame Day at Cooperstown on Monday.

The Clowns operate like a major league team. They start their early schooling program each spring in sunny Florida and play until the World Series time. Last year the Clowns played 150 games, winning 12, and losing only 29 against all kinds of opposition.

Last season the Clowns played to over 350,000 fans, including 25,000 Little Leaguers in uniform who were admitted to the games free of charge in order to help increase interest in baseball.

In the spring of 1952 a young man named Hank Aaron was playing shortstop with a sandlot club in Mobile, Ala. Syd Pollock and Ed Hamman had their Indianapolis Clowns in town for a game. The Clowns had given Aaron a tryout the previous fall while barnstorming with Jackie Robinson's All Stars and their shortstop was injured. The Clowns picked up Aaron for a suit of clothes and a contract calling for $250 a month in salary. That was in April. Barely a month later on May 29 to be exact, Pollock and Gamman peddled Aaron to the Milwaukee Braves for $10,000.

Ulster Indians Score Win, 9-4

Lou Perry banged a triple and two doubles to lead the Ulster Albany Avenue Businessmen Indians to a 9-4 win over the Kiwanis Yankees in a Town of Ulster Little League contest yesterday.

Perry and Charlie Lay divided the pitching duties with the latter receiving credit for the decision. Walt Gill was the loser.

The Indians were never headed, though it was a close game in the early stages. However, a sixth inning flurry put it out of reach.

Al Whitmore socked a pair of doubles for the Indians and Mike Colliodi had a two-bagger for the losers.

The line score: R H Indians . . . 4 0 1 0 1 3-9 8 Yankees . . . 0 0 4 0 0 4-4 Lou Perry, Charlie Lay and Bob Elliot; Walt Gill, Al Koyan and Walt Gill.

Highland, RV Ellenville Also In Semi-Finals

Kingston's Jaycee All-Stars advanced with three other talented loaded clubs into the finals of the District 16 Little League tournament last night.

While the Jaycees were trimming Hurley, 4-1, at the Armory Field, the Kingston Nationals suffered a 22-0 wallop at Highland. In the other games, Ellenville clouted Kerhonkson-Acord, 22-6, and Rondout Valley nipped Walden, 3-1.

This sets the stage for the semi-finals Thursday evening. Ellenville will play Rondout Valley at Rosendale and the Kingston Jaycees, the only local club left in the tourney, will be at Highland's beautiful park. The winners will then collide on Saturday for the district championship.

Mike Burns pitched superlative baseball for the Jaycees. He had a no-hitter until the fifth inning and allowed only two during the entire tilt. His mates picked up a first frame run on two errors and a sacrifice sandwiched in between.

3rd Inning Rally

The locals put the contest out of reach with a three run rally in the third frame. Brian Bach was hit by a pitch to start the uprising and Burns aided his cause with a booming double. Brian Findholt then walked to clog the sacks with one out.

At this point Vince Crantz came in to pitch for Hurley and Bill Miller greeted him with a double to score two runs. A single by Jeff Sperling got the other marker home.

Rondout Valley spotted Walden a second inning run on a homer by Jeff Concors and then went on to win with a tying marker in the last of the second and the winning runs in the fourth.

Toney and Schoonmaker hit four base blasts for the winners while Bill Botsakos pitched a nifty game. He allowed five hits while striking out 12 batters.

Cal Halstead of Highland fired a three-hitter against the Kingston Nationals to lead his club into the semi-finals. The locals were never a serious threat in this one.

Lynwood Hinton was the batting star for Ellenville. He hit his second grand slam and third home of the tournament for the Ellies as they buried Kerhonkson-Acord.

Jessie Burnett to Seek 3rd Hole-in-One Title August 7

Mrs. Charles E. (Jessie) Burnett of Woodstock Country Club will be seeking an unprecedented third Freeman Hole-in-One title in what may be her last appearance in the annual classic on Sunday, Aug. 7, at Woodstock Country Club.

Mrs. Burnett, who has been one of the county's greatest women golfers for more than two decades, led the inaugural event in 1949 with a shot of 10 feet, 2½ inches and won the 1959 event with a shot of 3 feet 4 inches, second best ever in the women's division.

Mrs. Burnett and her husband have competed in the Freeman tournament every year since its inception. They are planning to move to La Jolla, Calif. in November. In Ulster county over the years, Mrs. Burnett won the women's title at the old Woodstock Country Club and old Woodstock Country Club on several occasions, numerous Invitational titles and a flock of lesser tournaments.

In classical days, the Olympic ideal turned out to be the only way to get temporary peace between constantly warring Greek tribes.

The Games made them take time out from stirring up trouble.

To train for strenuous chariot races and whatnot, they had to take at least a couple of months from their spear throwing to get in shape.

DelMar Track Set For 21st Opening

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP) — Del Mar opens its gates today for its 42-day 21st summer season of thoroughbred racing at this seaside track Bing Crosby built.

A full field of 12 fillies and mares, including four stakes winners, was named for the $7,500 inaugural Handicap, a six-furlong sprint which will bring the favored Conejo Ranch's Honeys Gem, the fastest girl horse in the nation last year, before Del Mar fans for the first time.

The $30,000-added Del Mar Handicap Sept. 5 and the $50,000-added Del Mar Futurity Sept. 10 are the meetings richest stakes.

Biviano, 290-Pound Giant, In Wiltwyck's Invitational

A pair of 2 handicap aces from Stamford Country Club player of Norwich are among the early out of town entries for the second annual Wiltwyck Invitational which will be played this weekend.

One of the duo is Angelo Biviano, a massive 6 foot 5, 290 pound giant who hits for tremendous distance off the tee. The other is Dusty Annesi.

Biviano, who has twice won the Catskill Open, is described by Bill Seeley, former professional at Norwich, as "one of the longest hitters I have ever seen. He just flattens the ball and some types of golf balls he just can't use."

Other topflight entries to date include Bill Robischon, 2 handicap ace from Newburgh's Powelton, and recent winner of the Hudson River Golf Association championships at Wiltwyck.

J. Herbert Mulroy, a 3 handicap player from Southern Dutchess at Beacon; Robert Botsford, 4 handicapper from Dutchess, who defeated Leon Randall in the Stamford Invitational, and Bill Weatherwax, 3 handicap, of Red Hook, are other prominent entries who must be rated a chance to win the coveted title. Dick Bates, Stamford, is a 4 handicap player.

Bates in Field

In the 5 handicap bracket are: DeWitt Newkirk of Dogwood Knolls; Frank Parr, Berkshire Hills; Al Stoudt, Alexander Caven Links; Robert Ahlen of Berkshire and Angelo Magistro of Norwich.

Bills Lose Miller, A 220-lb. Lineman

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills' squad dropped to 52 Tuesday with the loss of lineman Ed Miller of Eastern Kentucky State.

Miller, a 225-pounder, was placed on the inactive list following a foot injury.

Head coach Buster Ramsey said the squad would ease up on scrimmaging and contact work for the rest of the week. The Bills open the American Football League exhibition schedule here Saturday against the Boston Patriots.

Bob Bates, 6 handicap, crack Stamford Country Club player highly popular with the Wiltwyck personnel, is among the early entries. In the 7 handicap group are such worthies Ernie Colomazo, Norwich; Joe Catanzaro, Ralph Barassi and Frank Bitzko of Alexander Caven; Peter Zuber, Berkshire and Louis J. Smith of Twaalfskill.

Other out of town entries to date: Andrew Jasienowski (9) and Anthony Celli (11) of Rip Van Winkle CC; Arthur Sullivan (10), Kass A. C.; Fred Gartner (19) Dutchess; Charles Calcagni (11), Dutchess; Douglas Donald (9) and Andrew Montgomery (12), Glenside; George Theodoropoulos (22), Alexander Caven; Anthony Duda (9), Pon-tosue; Carlton Carter, IBM; Tony de Lisio (22) Woodstock; Edward Spiesman (17) Stamford; Robert V. ## AL Champs Keep Lead Over Yanks With 16-3 Win

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

You can look it up. Nellie Fox homered and Jim Landis drove in four runs.

When the Chicago White Sox get this kind of hitting plus anticipated homers from their off-season power purchases — Gene Freese, Roy Sievers and Minnie Minoso — who's going to beat the defending American League champions?

Not Boston, that's for sure. The seventh-place Red Sox were the patsies again Tuesday night as Chicago slammed — slammed — slammed all over Fenway Park in a 16-3, 21-inning victory that retained their one-game lead over the New York Yankees.

Mickey Clouts One
The Yanks came alive in their own stadium, stopping Cleveland 6-1 behind winner Art Ditmar (8-7) and reliever Luis Arroyo. Mickey Mantle's 25th homer, a two-run shot in the sixth inning, was the difference as the Yanks won for only the fifth time in their last 15.

Third-place Baltimore fell four games behind when ex-Yank Johnny Kucks beat the Orioles for Kansas City 2-1. Detroit moved into a fifth-place tie with Washington by defeating the Senators 5-3.

First Homer
Fox' homer was his first of the season. The little left-hander, who hits for average but isn't doing it this year (271) has only 28 homers in 14 years in the majors. Landis' RBI upped his season total to 31. Usually he doesn't quite average one every three games.

Sievers hit his 16th homer, Minoso his 11th and Freese his 9th. That made it easy for Early Wynn to win his sixth in 13 decisions and the White Sox their 22nd in the last 31 games. Jerry Casale (2-9) was a loser for the ninth straight time.

Jimmy Piersall, Cleveland's problem player, scored the Indian run in the second inning. He beat out a bunt for a hit, was sacrificed to second and came home on Johnny Romano's single. After that it was all Yankees.

Mantle socked a 2-0 pitch by losing southpaw Dick Stigman (4-6) into the right field stands with Roger Maris, who had walked, on base.

Complete Game
Kucks of the Athletics hadn't pitched a winning complete game against Baltimore since 1956, his big year when he was 18-9 with the Yanks and picked up a key World Series victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Another ex-Yank, Jerry Lumpe, doubled and scored the tying run in the seventh, then beat out an infield top in the eighth to send another four straight times with two out to defeat Milt Pappas (8-8).

Detroit's Frank Lary (9-9) won his third straight after giving up the three Senator runs in the first.

Face Saves Tilt For Pittsburgh; Braves Win, 3-1

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The stubborn Pittsburgh Pirates aren't going to walk the plank for anybody. At least not as long as Vern Law can beat the St. Louis Cardinals practically blindfolded. And not as long as ElRoy Face can right a sinking ship.

The Cards rocked Law with a pair of two-run homers in the seventh inning Tuesday night, but he survived the inning with a 5-4 lead that turned out to be the final score as Pittsburgh stayed a half game ahead of Milwaukee in the National League pennant race.

The victory was Law's 13th, making him the biggest winner in the majors.

ElRoy Saves It

But when the Cards acted up on reliever Fred Green in the eighth, it was up to Face to save the victory with a double play ball and then a 1-2-3 job in the ninth for his 15th save among the Pirates' 55 triumphs.

Milwaukee, too, had it in the bullpen, as Ron Piche saved his seventh for the Braves who beat the Giants 3-1 at San Francisco. Carl Willey (5-4) was the winner on a five-hitter, but Piche had to wipe out the side in the ninth after the Giants rocked Willey with a homer and a single.

Cincinnati's Bob Purkey (10-6) pitched the only complete winning game in the league, a four-hitter that topped the Dodgers 4-1 at Los Angeles. Dick Farrell had to bail out Robin Roberts (7-9) to nail down the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3, come-from-behind victory at Chicago.

Jones Beaten

The Braves' victory, their sixth straight over the Giants and their 11th in their last 13 games, prevented Sad Sam Jones (12-10) from matching Law's win record. Jones struck out 11 and didn't give up a hit until the sixth inning.

Rookies Cliff Cook and Gordon Coleman, each playing only his second game for Cincinnati, drove in a run apiece and veteran Frank Robinson hit homer No. 19 for the other two as Cincinnati beat Johnny Podres (8-8). Cook had four singles in four trips.

Purkey, who has now beaten the Dodgers three times this season, gave up Duke Snider's 12th home run. The Phillies, down 2-1 in the ninth, got a three-run homer from third-string catcher Clay Dalrymple off loser Glen Hobbie (9-13). But then Ron Santo opened the Cub half with a homer. Farrell came on, only to be greeted by a double by Ernie Banks, before getting the final three men. Banks earlier regained a share of the league home run lead when he hit No. 28 to match Aaron's total.

Sandarac is a pale-yellow gum resin that exudes like tear drops from sandarac trees.

THE CAMPBELL IS GOING—Looking out from a strange-looking cockpit, Donald Campbell is surrounded by mechanics, newspapermen and photographers at the unveiling of his new Bluebird at Goodwood, Sussex, England. Campbell, holder of the world speed mark on water, plans to shoot for the land record on the Utah Salt Flats in September.

Legion, Rotary Notch Wins In Babe Ruth League Contests

Lonnie McAndrew walked with the bases loaded and two outs in the seventh inning to force in the winning run as the Legion nipped Kiwanis, 9-8, in a Kingston Babe Ruth League contest yesterday.

In another tilt, the Rotary Club stopped K.P.A., 6-3, with four runs in the fourth and two in the seventh doing the damage.

The Kiwanis-Legion tilt was a thriller. Both sides tallied five runs in the first inning and one in the second and that's the way the score stayed until the sixth.

In that frame, a walk, error and two singles scored a pair of runs for the Legion. However, the losers came back in the seventh.

Two Combine for No-Hit Contest

Bill Ball and Charles Higgins combined their talents to hurl a no-hitter as the Mohawks stopped the Navajos, 6-0, in a Metropolitan Knott-hole League game yesterday.

The winners broke a scoreless tie by scoring a run in the fourth and then added another in the fifth and four in the sixth. Frank Brooks swatted a home run to lead the attack.

Ball walked one and fanned four in his three inning stint and Higgins issued two walks and struck out three.

The line score:

	R	H
Mohawks	000	114-6 9
Navajos	000	000-0 0

Bill Ball, Charles Higgins and Alan Leonardo; Wayne Havens, John Brown and John Howard.

ent to knot the tilt on a walk and two errors and then came the last of the seventh and the winning marker.

Joe Schabot went the distance for the Legion to record the win. Starter Frank Cardinale was the loser.

Bob Murphy and Mike Hart of the K.P.A. made sensational plays but they weren't enough to stop the Rotary from gaining its 6-3 verdict.

Lance Sussin picked up the win with a three-hit performance. He walked and fanned 11 batters. Gary Greiner was the loser.

Tonight's schedule has the K.P.A. vs. the 35 Club at 6 and V.F.W. meeting the Moose Club at 8 with both games at the stadium. At Loughran Park, the Elks and K of C will collide at 6 o'clock.

Nuxhall Gets Fined $250 for Fisticuffs

Upsets Featured At Golf Tourney In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The favorites showing up for the second round of the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament today didn't have too much room for overconfidence.

All they had to do was glance back at Tuesday's first round in which Nancy Roth of Hollywood, Fla., and Elkhart, Ind., shot down Barbara McIntire, the USGA and British Amateur champion, 1-up.

Miss Roth, the present Florida state titlist, wasn't supposed to beat Miss McIntire. So Nancy fired an outgoing 2-under-par 34 for a 2-up lead and hung on for the victory.

Mrs. Anne Casey Johnstone, veteran Iowa champion from Mason City, eliminated Phyllis Preuss, Brighton, Mich., 3 and 2 in what was regarded as a mild upset.

Miss Roth's second-round foe was Doris Phillips of Belleville, Ill., who ousted Lois Penn, Des Moines, Iowa, 8 and 6. Joe Anne Gunderson, defending champion from Seattle, complained the narrow fairways and many trees on the 6,141-yard, par 36-72 Mission Hills course puts a penalty on her long game. Nevertheless, she played 14 holes in one under par in beating Andy Cohn, Waterloo, Iowa, 5 and 4. She was to meet Sandra Spuzion of Indianapolis today.

Upsetting Story

PITTSBURGH (NEA) — The underdog has won six of the last eight football games between Pittsburgh and West Virginia.

CINCINNATI (AP)—National

League President Warren Giles Tuesday suspended pitcher Joe Nuxhall of the Cincinnati Reds for five days, effective immediately, and fined him $250 for an altercation with Umpire Ed Vargo at Chicago.

The Reds announced the penalty.

Nuxhall, veteran southpaw from Hamilton, Ohio, will accompany the team on its current West Coast tour, but won't be eligible to pitch until Sunday.

Nuxhall had to be wrestled to the ground Monday in a game with Chicago's Cubs, to prevent him from getting at umpire Vargo.

The incident came in the eighth inning when Chicago's George Altman beat out an infield hit. Nuxhall covered first, taking the throw from first sacker Gordon Coleman.

When Vargo ruled Altman safe, Nuxhall charged, knocking the umpire reeling. Red's Manager Fred Hutchinson ran out to restrain his pitcher, and Coleman teamed with Billy Martin in wrestling Nuxhall to the ground.

Marciano to Play In Golf Tourney

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rocky Marciano, the retired heavyweight boxing champion, makes his debut in tournament golf today in the pro-am division of the Eastern Open.

"When I step out on the course, it'll be like fighting a four-rounder in a small town," Rocky said. "I want to get used to playing before crowds."

Rocky said he took to the links about 16 months ago, mainly because of the good golfing weather in Florida. He confessed he didn't think he'd like the game.

Tillson, W. Hurley Firemen to Parade

Members of the West Hurley and Tillson Fire Departments will meet at their firehouses at 3:30 p. m. Saturday for final instructions before leaving for Kingston to participate in the 25th annual convention parade of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association parade.

Chief Howard Hopkins, of West Hurley, has asked all department members with uniforms to report with them. All members who do not have uniforms have been told to report attired in dark blue or black trousers, white shirt, black tie and black shoes.

The lineup of the department will consist of the equipment of Spillway Company No. 3 and Glenford Company No. 4, which are being used for the first time. All Tillson firemen participating in the parade have been instructed to wear blue trousers, black shoes, white shirt and black tie.

LESS CONGESTION NOTED—Travel appears to be moving at a better rate on the Kingston side of the arterial route spur than it did on opening day. ## City Detectives Go to Sullivan To Question Trio

An effort Tuesday to determine if three young men held in Sullivan County were involved in recent local thefts brought no immediate results, but will be continued with cooperation of state police, Deputy Police Chief Grover S. Hoffay, as acting chief said today.

Detectives Gurnsey Burger and William Slover went to Sullivan County to question the trio: Michael G. Christoforo, 23, of 55 Washington Avenue; Peter G. Suski, 26, of 322 Albany Avenue; and Benjamin T. Hamilton, 26, of Lisa Lane.

Cpl. T. J. Emden, state police, Ferndale took them into custody early Tuesday after finding them in a parked car on a side road near the post office and business houses at Kiamasha Lake. Pry bars and screw drivers described by police as burglary tools were found in the car.

Local police records show a long list of traffic arrests against Christoforo, and lists a 1957 burglary count. The three, arraigned Tuesday in the Town of Thompson, Sullivan County, pleaded innocent to charges alleging possession of burglary tools, and are due for hearing at 7 p. m. Friday.

Port Ewen Youth Held in Hudson On MV Charges

Driving a $10 car is no police offense in Hudson but when the driver displays license plates on the front and rear which do not match, passes a police car and is not in the possession of an operator's license, that is going a bit too far.

Hudson police picked up Walter M. Barclay, 19, of Port Ewen and charged him with driving without a license, driving an unregistered car and driving with improper plates. City Judge Robert Meyer asked for $100 bail and in lieu of the bail Barclay was remanded to the Columbia County jail.

Barclay told the police he purchased the car, complete with a portable radio, for $10 in Port Ewen and that sum included plates. He will have a chance later to tell his story again in Hudson city court.

Drivers Arrested For Going Wrong Way on Routes

Two drivers, one on the Route 28 traffic circle, the other on the newly opened arterial spur, both going in the wrong direction, have been arrested by state police.

Kenneth McDonald of Port Charlotte, Fla., was picked up by Thruway police Tuesday morning charged with proceeding in the wrong direction on the traffic circle. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan of the town of Kingston and paid a $15 fine.

Kingston state police issued a summons Tuesday evening to Donald Lee of Kingston for driving in the wrong direction on the new spur. He is scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace Arthur Reilly of the Town of Ulster today. He was stopped by Trooper Joseph Ventriglia.

Seven Drivers Pay $90 in City Court

Seven drivers paid $90 in fines on traffic charges in city court Tuesday night.

Booked as a second offender on a charge of speeding, Brian Palmer, of Cannon Street, Poughkeepsie, was fined $50. Charges alleging lack of license and registration were dismissed. Herbert Watrous, of Woodstock and Gary Lewis, 248 Catherine Street, charged with speeding were fined $10 each. Fined $5 each were Edwin T. Loomis, 45 May Street, Poughkeepsie, red light; Edward Benjamin, Greenfield Park, unregistered vehicle; Robert Curry, Sundown, stop-sign, and James Hopper, Box 208, High Falls, insufficient lights.

A third degree assault charge against Robert Krajewski, 22, of 454 Washington Avenue, was withdrawn. Police said he was arrested by George Shufeldt, of Lake Katrine at 19 Hurley Avenue.

Lawrence Scarth, of West Hurley, charged with a traffic light violation, today was fined $5.

State flower of Wyoming is the Indian paint-brush, a spreading red blossom.

DAYLIGHT "GHOSTS"—These two fellows might pass for actors in some spine-tingling horror movie. They're coating and wrapping sections of a new natural gas pipeline being built for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. near Mt. Vernon, Ohio. Chester Starn, left, and Jim Anderson paint their faces a ghostly white with a lotion that protects them from the fumes of a hot tar-base substance used in coating the pipes.

Greene County Contractors Are Admitted to Bail

Four Greene County contractors charged with grand larceny for collecting money from customers and failing to pay for material used, have been admitted to bail. They will have a hearing before County Judge Roy C. Moon on August 1.

Leonard Siwecki, 40, South Cairo was freed on $2,000 property bail. Alex Wiltse Jr., Greene County district attorney said Siwecki had been engaged to build a house for John Panek of Catskill. He drew some $5,000 in advance, operating as the Lepore Builders, Inc., but failed to pay a $1,200 lumber bill and for cabinets and kitchen supplies as well as electrical supplies. He also is alleged to have neglected to pay bills of a plumber he hired. It is also charged he did work for Mrs. Medeline Speenburgh of Cairo and failed to pay for materials he used.

Harry Arciero, 63, and his sons Rocco, 23, and Vincent, 20, of Middletown, who did work at the Villa Pompeii at Cairo, are charged with failure to pay lumber bills totaling $1,800.

Under state lien laws, monies received by contractors are supposed to be held in trust to cover costs of materials purchased. The remainder is profit for the contractor.

The arrests were made by Trooper Joseph Valicenti of the Leeds BCI unit.

Two Convicted In Fur Thefts, Sentence Aug. 16

Accused of burglarizing a Poughkeepsie fur store on the afternoon of Feb. 28, a 35-year-old Providence, R. I., man and his 24-year-old wife were convicted early today by a Dutchess County Court jury of third degree burglary, grand larceny and conspiracy, a misdemeanor.

The defendants were John Anthony Shahinian and Mrs. Lillian Shahinian. A third defendant, Louis M. Grieco, 30, of Providence, was acquitted by the jury and released by County Judge John R. Schwartz.

Shahinian and his wife were remanded to the county jail at Poughkeepsie. Sentence will be imposed on Tuesday, August 16. Judge Schwartz fixed Friday, July 29, for motions.

The case went to the jury of seven men and five women at 4:42 p. m. Tuesday and the verdicts were reported at 12:55 a. m. today.

Authorities accused the trio of burglarizing Frank's fur shop, 20 Liberty Street, and taking furs valued at $2,000. The furs were not recovered.

UN Gives Financial Help to the Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba of the Congo and his aides, reportedly short of money for their North American visit, were said today to be getting personal financial help from the United Nations.

The young republic ran into financial difficulties after it became independent of Belgian rule June 30.

The famed Rialto Bridge crossing the canal in Venice, Italy, was built in 1590.
